GREATEST ADVENTURE READY

APOLLO 11 FLIGHT BOOSTED BY MANY

Moon Shot Set To Go

. . . AT 8:32 A.M.

Cape Kennedy, Fla. (AP) — Ready for the century's greatest adventure, space agency officials declared Apollo 11 set for blastoff Wednesday to land two Americans on the moon.

"We have had a very smooth ccuntdown. There has not been any problem whatsoever that would scratch us," launch director Rocco A. Petrone said Tuesday as work moved smoothly toward the 8:32 a.m. liftoff.

Astronauts Confident

Confident and in good spirits for their quarter-million-mile journey to the moon, astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, 38, Michael Collins, 38, and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., 39, "have shown no evidence of any illness of any sort," said Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief astronaut physician.

Armstrong and Aldrin spent some time Tuesday in a landing craft trainer before sitting down to a steak dinner.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson, leading a long list of VIPs here to witness the liftoff, described the $355-million mission as "a culmination of efforts."

Peace, Prosperity

Johnson said, "If we can lead the world to the moon, we can lead them to peace and bountiful prosperity here at home."

Hundreds of thousands of people jammed the area, but if forecasters are correct, they may only see a few moments of history.

Weather predictions are "very favorable" for launch, Petrone said, but after Apollo 11's 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 rocket pierces cloud cover expected at 15,000 feet, "visibility may not be good," he warned.

Mission director George H. Hage told a news conference that failure is always a possibility and people should be prepared for it.

Astronauts Save Strength

The astronauts spent most of Tuesday in crew quarters, reviewing the flight plan and conserving their strength for the demanding eight-day mission.

The three astronauts talked to their wives by telephone.

Mrs. Armstrong flew to the area Monday night in a private plane. She is the only one of the three astronauts' wives planning to watch the launching at Cape Kennedy. The other Apollo 11 wives will view it on television at their homes near the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex.

'We Have High Confidence'

"Everything conceivable has been done to assure our safety," said Armstrong. "We have high confidence. Otherwise we would not go."

Nearly a million persons were expected to witness the blastoff firsthand.

They include Johnson, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, hundreds of congressmen, foreign officials, and poor people protesting that money for the mission could be better spent helping them.

Plane loads of VIPs began flying to the area Tuesday.

Batteries Installed

At the launch pad, crews installed batteries aboard the Saturn 5 rocket and completed preparing the spacecraft.

Success on Apollo 11 would mean the accomplishment of the goal set by President John F. Kennedy May 25, 1961, when he summoned the nation to take on the task "before this decade is out, of landing man on the moon and returning him safely to earth."

It also would prove the moon is an accessible frontier for scientific exploration, answer numerous scientific questions including perhaps whether life exists away from Earth, and gain incalculable political prestige for the United States for winning the moon race.

Failure Means September

Failure on Apollo 11 would delay a manned lunar landing by the United States until at least September, the soonest another Saturn-Apollo moonship could be readied. It also would mean the Apollo 12 crew would get the honors.

Armstrong is to make man's first step on the lunar crust Monday at 1:21 a.m.

Packed in the lander craft is a television camera to give Earthlings a knothole view of that historic moment and show Armstrong and Aldrin setting up experiments and collecting rocks during the 2½ hours they plan to walk on the moon.

U.S. Flag, Good-Will Messages

Also aboard is a $380 American flag the crewmen hope to stick into the soil, messages of good will to be left on the moon from heads of state of 73 nations, and a plaque, signed by President Nixon and the three astronauts, attached to the outside of the lander craft which reads:

"Here men from the planet Earth first set foot upon the moon, July 1969, A.D. We came in peace for all mankind."

In addition, Apollo 11 also will carry other U.S. flags and 136 small flags of United Nations members and members of U.N. organizations. The smaller flags will be returned to Earth and not deployed on the surface.

TV Networks' Schedules

New York (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. said it would continue its coverage of the Apollo 11 moon shot until about 12:30 p.m. Wednesday. The Columbia Broadcasting System planned continuous coverage until about noon. The American Broadcasting Co. said it would broadcast moon shot news until 10:30 a.m. and from 11 a.m. to noon.

NU STUDENTS . . . await degrees at commencement exercises.

Two Grandmothers Receive NU Degrees With Distinction

Two grandmothers are among those seniors who graduated with distinction at the University of Nebraska summer commencement exercises Tuesday evening.

Receiving one of the highest academic honors bestowed by the University were Mrs. Catherine Nore, wife of State Sen. Herb Nore of Genoa and Mrs. Margaret L. Carter, wife of William Carter who farms near Palisade.

Both women have been teaching school for many years and plan to continue in the profession. Although their degrees have been completed, they plan to keep up-to-date by continuing their education in the years ahead.

Mrs. Carter began her college career in the 1930's on a Regents scholarship. Avid football fans, both she and her husband attend as many Cornhusker games as possible each year. Although she will continue teaching at Palisade, the Carters are looking forward to traveling.

Mrs. Nore was encouraged by her children to work on a degree at the university. She began teaching in Red Cloud where her mother, Mrs. Ruth Garber, resides. For the past five years she has been in the Nance County Schools And taking classes whenever she could get them through correspondence, night classes, and a full schedule of summer classes. Now she is looking ahead to graduate work as a means of keeping up with the changes in education and society.

Mrs. Nore admits she worked hard, but enjoyed making many friends with students of all ages at the university.

Omaha To Add 1% Sales Tax; Reduced Mill Levy Promised

Omaha (UPI) — The Omaha City Council Tuesday approved an ordinance calling for a one per cent sales tax to go into effect Oct. 1.

Councilman Al Veys, who made the motion to accept the proposal, said it was to be understood the tax would be accompanied by a lowering of the mill levy, but that the mill levy would be set later because of the length of the meeting

The meeting lasted just over five hours, and was finally adjourned at 7 p.m. to reconvene at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The proposal was passed as an amendment to another proposed ordinance, introduced at last week's meeting, which called for a one-half cent tax. The Oct. 1 effective date also was tacked on to the original ordinance as an amendment.

Council President Fred Jacobberger voted against the amendments, as did Councilman Warren Swigart. Both also voted against the original proposal when it was amended to enact a one per cent tax.

A public hearing on the amendments was held, and several proponents and opponents took the floor.

Councilman Art Bradley who opened discussion, said he felt that one per cent tax was "a proper one" if the city intends to go through with proposed wage increases for policemen and civilian city employes. Bradley said he thought pay for the firemen was "adequate."

Altogether, the budget program Bradley outlined to be supported by the one per cent tax was to cost $10-12 million.

Included in the program was a $4,800,000 sum earmarked for a Papio Creek sewage treatment plant, $1.5 million for low cost housing and job opportunities for deprived persons, and a new $1 milion program which would make city funds available to match federal funds that require such contributions.

Most of the councilmen agreed that a one-half cent tax was not sufficient but that a one cent tax was too much. The mill levy reduction proposal is expected to be discussed in Wednesday morning's meeting. The reduction ranges from the previously suggested 4% to 7%, suggested by Swigart.

County Budget Hearing Slated

A public hearing on the proposed $5.3 million Lancaster County budget for the 1969-70 fiscal year was set for July 30. A portion of the proposed budget was presented to the county board Tuesday. Indications are that the budget requests will top last year's requests by about 13% (See story Page 24.)

Island Volcano Sends Off Lava

Volcano, Hawaii (AP) — Kilauea Volcano roared back into action on Hawaii Island Tuesday, sending glowing lava 1,000 feet into the sky for an hour before dying down to fountains of 400 feet.

Dr. Howard Powers, head of the Volcano Observatory, said the fountaining was in the Alae-Aloi craters area, scene of four phases of volcanic activity since May 24.

New York Times News Summary

Great Adventure's Crucial Moment Nears

(C) New York Times News Service

Cape Kennedy — Apollo 11, representing one of mankind's most important ventures, was described as moving well toward the crucial moment when the giant rocket would lift the spaceship and its three astronauts on their voyage to the moon at 8:32 a.m. Wednesday. (More on Page 1.)

ABM Debate Turns Political

Washington — The Senate debate on deployment of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system appeared to be shifting from an esoteric technical argument to an old-fashioned political struggle for the remaining three or four uncommitted votes. The opposition is certain it lost Sen. Winston L. Prouty's support because of politicking.

Space Crowds Largest

Nixon Talks To Astronauts

Washington — President Nixon talked with the astronauts by telephone and told them that "the good wishes and prayers of us all" would accompany them on their voyage.

Corner Turned, Laird Says

Washington — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird told Congress that in his opinion the United States has "turned the corner" toward peace in Vietnam. (More on Page 25.)

Church Criticizes Magazine

Bonn — The Roman Catholic Church in Munich sharply criticized the German news magazine Der Spiegel for the article it published last week about Auxilliary Bishop Matthias Defregger's involvement in wartime executions in an Italian village.

Reopening Of Baker Case Sought

Washington — The Nixon administration moved through a Justice Department suit to reopen the case of Robert G. Baker, the Senate Democrats' secretary who was convicted two years ago on criminal charges of stealing $137,000 in political contributions and evading taxes. The new suit charged Baker with abusing his trust as a public employe.

Part Of Sun To Return

Cape Kennedy — Dr. Johannes Geiss, a Swiss scientist, said the astronauts would try to bring back one-billionth of an ounce of the sun, impregnated in a one-by-four-foot sheet of aluminum foil that will be spread on the lunar surface 10½ hours after landing.

Museum Transferred

New York — Huntington Hartford, the 58-year-old A&P heir, announced he had transferred ownership of his $7.4 million Gallery of Modern Art to Farleigh Dickinson University. Hartford will donate $1 million in working capital to the museum, while Mrs. Farleigh Dickinson Sr. will give $2 million toward retirement of the mortgage.

U.S. Deplores Arms' Use

Washington — The Nixon administration called "very regrettable" the use of United States-supplied arms by Honduras and El Salvador in their air and ground hostilities which began late Monday. The administration endorsed fully the efforts of the Organization of American States to bring about a cease-fire.

Ky Suggests Walkout

War Rages In Central America

World News

Tegucigalpa, Honduras (AP) — Savage fighting and heavy casualties were reported Tuesday on the second day of war between land-hungry El Salvador and the banana paradise of Honduras. Tanks were reported in action.

The Salvadorean military command announced its forces captured the village of Macaome in a 45-mile-deep thrust into Honduran territory.

The Salvadoreans also claimed the capture of the border town of Nueva Ocotepeque and the surrender of Honduran officers and men after "little resistance.'

'Especially Cruel'

But a Honduran government announcement said the "struggle has been especially cruel" near Nueva Ocotepeque, with fighting continuing for seven hours at last report.

Honduran medical personnel reported casualties, both civilian and military, were heavy on both sides of the border.

Salvadorean government sources said unofficially their army is marching in two columns into Honduras with the capital, Tegucigalpa, as the objective.

One column is composed of tanks, artillery, motor transport, jeeps and other vehicles on the Honduras south highway, part of the Pan American Highway.

Infantry is marching through the mountains, the sources said. Fierce hand-to-hand combat raged Tuesday along the border, the sources added.

Years Of Tension

Climaxing years of glaring tensions — including a superheated international soccer football rivalry — the war erupted Monday night when Honduras reported a deep stab into its territory from El Salvador.

Experts viewed the conflict as an outburst of the population explosion plaguing Central America and many other areas of the world.

Honduras, with 2½ million population and 43,227 square miles of territory, is essentially agricultural, one of the three largest banana exporters in the world. El Salvador, one of the most industrialized nations of Central America, has only 8,260 square miles of territory for its 3 million inhabitants.

The Honduran government announced two large Salvadorean tanks were captured in the border fighting Tuesday and were thrown back into battle manned by Hondurans.

Planes Drop Bombs

Planes of both countries bombed airports and military targets. The Honduran government said five girls in a boarding school operated by Canadian nuns were gravely injured in a Salvadorean air raid Monday night on Chonutca in the south.

In New York, Standard Oil of New Jersey said its refinery in Acjulta, El Salvador, was burning after a bombing attack by Honduran planes.

El Salvador announced Tuesday it was suspending all military air activity pending the arrival from Washington of a peace team of the Organization of American States — OAS. The United States is one of the seven members of the team.

The Salvadorean National Assembly declared a state of siege and suspended all school classes while the El Salvador high command declared that for every bomb dropped on Salvadorean civilians the air force would drop 10 bombs on Teguciagalpa. El Salvador claimed it had 118 planes ready for combat.

At the United Nations in New York, the Salvadorean ambassador said his government hoped the OAS would find a solution to the conflict without the necessity of taking it before the U.N. Security Council.

In Washington, the State Department said it did not plan to intervene unilaterally in the dispute.

"We are acting entirely through the Organization of American States and are not making any separate or independent approaches," Robert J. McCloskey, the department spokesman, told newsmen.

Lilt Of Lazy Life In Sun Blazes Into Tension

By H. D. QUIGG

Cocoa Beach, Fla. (UPI) — The lilt of the lazy life in the sun that is the way of the Florida coast snapped into a blaze of tension Tuesday.

As if on command from the ever-changing green and red lights of the countdown clocks in the Kennedy Space Center firing room that flick . . . flick . . . flick the diminuendo of seconds toward the moment that will live in history, the environs of America's moonport came alive.

Tents of campers blossomed along the waterfront vantage points where the curious and the dedicated will gather early Wednesday and peer toward the Cape Kennedy pad where a ballooning flash will signal that the voyage of Apollo 11 has begun.

Traffic on the too-few streets and highways grew and slowed to an amble. Cadres of VIPs and business bosses of pinnacle status were served by dozens of frantic motel proprietors and their dining room and bar attendants.

At first light of dawn among the welter of trailers, tents, and inflated sleeping bags in Port Canaveral's Jetty Park, Mrs. Glenn Wilson of Orlando, Fla., ran up her 3-by-5-foot American flag on the front pole of her tent where she and her three children are waiting for the historic blaze on the hazy horizon.

"I guess we're just patriotic," said her son Glenn Jr., 16.

Patriotic too, but with a message, was the Rev. Dr. Ralph D. Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, who visited the space center and said America needed to reach out to her starving poor as well as to the stars.

The mustached Abernathy, followed by his full-bearded assistant Hosea Williams to the Apollo site, carried a sign: "$12 a day to feed an astronaut. We could feed a starving child for $8."

Negro children with him carried other signs: "Everything would be A-OK, if children had three meals a day." "Rockets or Rickets?" "Moon Shots Breed Malnutrition."

The prelaunch feverishness of Cocoa Beach reached a fast pant when the Australian marathon runner, Bill Emmerton, loped to the front of a motel to finish a 28-day, 1,083-mile jog from Houston, Tex., in honor of the Apollo 11 crew.

"Welcome to Cocoa Beach!" said astronaut James Lovell, the official greeter, shaking Emmerton's hand.

"Whew!" said Emmerton.

"We all pry (puff) to God that they have (puff, puff) a successful mission and a safe return to their wives and families (puff, heave). I'd rather go to the moon every weekend than do this run again."

Ky Proposes Walkout If Reds Keep Rejecting Offer

©The New York Times

Saigon — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky proposed Tuesday that South Vietnam walk out of the Paris peace talks if the Communists continue to reject President Nguyen Van Thieu's offer of supervised elections.

Addressing an audience at the National War College here, the vice president said that in his view, the president's offer to permit the participation of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front in elections constituted a "grave step backward in our national policy of anti-communism."

"But still the Communists have rejected it," Ky said, "so I would think that there is no more reason for us to maintain and prolong the Paris talks."

Speaking over national television last Friday, Thieu invited the Viet Cong to participate in elections organized by a joint electoral commission and supervised by an international body.

The Communist delegation in Paris promptly denounced the offer as a "perfidious maneuver." Nonetheless, Thieu said Monday that his proposal would be formally presented to the other side in Paris this week.

It was Ky's first public appearance in months.

No clarification of Ky's statement was available from other governmental sources.

In his speech Ky listed what he described as serious strategic mistakes committed by the United States in pursuing the war between 1965 and 1967. He said the American decision to limit the bombing of the North failed to stop infiltration through Laos and permitted supplies to be delivered by ship via Haiphong harbor and Cambodia.

He also asserted that the United States had concentrated too heavily on the fighting and devoted inadequate attention to the modernization and equipping of the South Vietnamese army.

Discussing current American intentions in Vietnam, Ky said: "They would still leave even if we run after them beseeching them to come back."

Hanoi 'Condemns' Election Offer

©The New York Times

Paris — The North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks Tuesday "vigorously condemned and rejected" the South Vietnamese government's offer of elections to decide that country's political future.

Hanoi rejected the proposal on the ground that there can be no free elections, by its interpretation of the phrase, in the South as long as "more than 500,000 American and satellite troops are still in South Vietnam."

The Hanoi statement also said Thieu's government "has no right whatsoever to organize elections."

A spokesman for the South Vietnamese delegation said that North Vietnam's statement was "just propaganda."

Luna 15 Mission Special

Jodrell Bank, England (AP) — The Soviet unmanned Luna 15 is on a slower pace to the moon, indicating it is heavier and carries new equipment for a special mission, Britian's foremost space expert said Tuesday.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Bank Observatory, reported the flight, slower than any other Soviet moon launch, "indicates that a new form of operation is intended. It supports the theory that Luna 15 may attempt to recover lunar rock."

Sources in Moscow have been speculating that the Luna 15 will land a capsule that may scoop up lunar soil and rocket back to earth.

Lovell, whose giant radio telescope has been tracking Luna 15 told old reporters the spaceship ordinarily would reach the moon Wednesday, the same day the U.S. Apollo 11 blasts off for the first attempt at a manned landing on the lunar surface.

After studying the tracking reports, however, he concluded that Luna 15 cannot reach the moon until Thursday morning, about 10 hours later than expected.

'Popcorn Pen' Once Church

. . . DuBois Youth Center Swings

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

DuBois — Try this for a strange switch in titles: from DuBois Bible Church to "Mod Fricket's Popcorn Penitentiary."

The latter stands for youth center, complete with psychedelic-painted sidewalk and a bandstand that sits where a pulpit used to. Swaying dancers claim the space formerly occupied by pews.

Irreverent? By no means, say sponsors, for wholesome recreation is a great need of today's searching teenagers. The "Penitentiary" helps supply this locally and over an area well beyond little DuBois.

"We like to think we're keeping kids off the streets of half a dozen towns that don't have a youth center," said Mrs. Clifford Buman, christened "chief warden" by the month-old club. "Our Saturday night combo dances are drawing 70 to 80, which is pretty groovey for a village of 220."

Rent-Free

The organization owes its start to a May dance held for area seniors. So successful was this get-together that the Bumans, who once used the building as a residence, agreed to provide it rent-free.

The community then came through with paint ("any and every color,") and the makings of a snack bar. A reading room, ping pong, pin-ball machine, chess and checkers busy the kids between dance nights.

Although insisting that "this is really the kids' own project," Mrs. Buman was the catalyst just as she was for years with a Pawnee City center. Mrs. Charles Havlicek, another of DuBois' main pushers, noted that "the club just wouldn't be if it hadn't been for Betty."

The Bumans' daughter, Debra, is secretary-treasurer of the club. Other officers are Rick Henninger, president; and Galen Trecek, Harold Andrews, Andrew Havlicek and Gerald Andrews.

Whence the mysterious name?

"The kids came up with it themselves, borrowing the first part from the Jonathan Winters show," said Mrs. Buman. "The last part I don't fully understand, but at least it was chosen democratically."

Bertrand Yields Four More Mercury Flasks

Missouri Valley, Iowa (AP) — Four more flasks of mercury were unearthed Tuesday during excavation, of the Missouri River Packet Bertrand which sank a century ago, bringing the total recovered to eight.

How much more will be found in the way of treasures or useful artifacts remained in question, however.

"It's darned likely someone has been here before," said Jerry Petsche, who is in charge of archaeology at the site for the National Parks Service.

Records also showed that a passenger on the river packet, identified only as W. Burrows, had told the Davenport, Iowa, Gazette following the sinking of the river packet that about one third of the cargo had been taken out in a damaged condition before he left the scene.

It also is known that the insurance company which carried the risk on the cargo had sent divers down to explore the cargo when the Cora was wrecked a few miles above the Bertrand. They unloaded the Cora first, accounts say, and when they got back to the Bertrand it was already covered with sand.

Bridge Burns Closing U.S. 6 Near Hamlet

Hamlet (AP) — One of Nebraska's main east-west highways was closed in the western part of the state early Tuesday after a wooden bridge was destroyed by fire one mile west of Hamlet.

The bridge over U.S. 6 caught fire when the driver of an oil transport attempted to avoid hitting a deer. The truck struck a railing, went into the creek and caught fire, burning the bridge.

William Baker, driver for the Jessel Oil Co. of Wauneta, was hospitalized at Imperial with undisclosed injuries.

The State Department of Roads announced that the road will be closed for 10 days while repairs are being made.

Traffic between Culbertson and Imperial will be routed west on Highway 34 and north on Highway 61.

Auto Registration Fee Hike Gets First Round Approval

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature Tuesday gave initial floor approval to a highway revenue bill increasing the registration fee for automobiles from $9 to $15.50 a year.

Together with proposed registration fee hikes for trucks, the measure will raise more than $5 million in additional annual revenue for road, street and highway construction.

Affirmative action on the bill sent to second stage consideration the last of the legislative highway study committee's recommendations for increased funding for highway allocation.

Added $19.5 Million

Bills awaiting further action at the second plateau would raise an additional $19.5 million a year for distribution among the state, cities and counties.

The registration proposal, LB1304, gained 32-3 advancement. Only Sens. Clifton Batchelder, Sam Klaver and Richard Proud, all of Omaha, dissented.

Previously endorsed revenue bills would boost the state gasoline tax from 7½ to nine cents a gallon, and allocate to highways one-half of the proceeds from the sales tax collected on motor vehicles.

Can Be Amended

At the suggestion of Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, chairman of the legislative highway study committee, the three revenue bills can be amended at the second stage of floor debate with 25 votes.

Warner said proposed financing bills may need to be changed to achieve the kind of balance which senators want.

A move is developing in the Legislature to reduce the proposed gas tax hike from 1½ to one cent a gallon. Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha served notice Tuesday that he will suggest such a change.

If the gas tax boost were reduced, senators would need to increase revenue from another highway source if they are to fund the entire spending package.

One alternative would be to allocate the full receipts from the sales tax collected on motor vehicles to highways.

Other senators are considering second round amendments to reduce the amount of the proposed increase in registration fees, and boost other revenue alternatives to make up the difference.

Hike Trucks Also

In addition to hiking automobile registration fees, LB1304 would boost the fees for farm trucks, pickups and other trucks.

Local and local-commercial licensees would pay 50% of the commercial registration fee for their size of vehicle, or a minimum of $18.

In view of the earlier decision to increase truck weights permitted on Nebraska highways, the bill also provides for a 20% higher fee for trucks which carry 36 tons or more.

Rail Crossing Crash Kills Teenage Girl

Salem (UPI) — A 13-year old Salem girl, Mary Alice Windle, was killed Monday evening when the car in which she was riding was in collision with a Burlington freight train at a county road crossing near Salem.

The Richardson County sheriff's office said the car was being driven by the girl's mother, Mrs. Delphine Windle. Another passenger in the car was a grandson of Mrs. Windle, 6-year-old Richard Hoover of Bartlesville, Okla. Both Mrs. Windle and the little boy were listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday at a Falls City hospital.

Young Sentenced On Bigamy Count

Beatrice (UPI) — Gerald J. Young of Beatrice was sentenced to not less than 12 months and not more than 20 months in the Nebraska Penal Complex for bigamy.

Sentence was imposed in Gage County District Court by Judge Ernest A. Hubka.

The charge was originally filed in county court by Gage County Atty. Ken Mahlin after he learned Young had a wife in Lincoln and had married in Beatrice before a divorce from the first wife became final.

Nebraska Retail Sales, General Business Rise

Buoyed by a 23.1% jump in building activity and a 10% increase in the amount of electricity consumed, Nebraska's general business index moved up 5% in April above the point of the same period in 1968.

The upward trend in general business over the state and a 7.4% increase in retail sales during May were reported by Business in Nebraska, monthly publication of the University of Nebraska College of Business Administration's Bureau of Business Research.

Although the gain from April 1968 to April 1969 was something less than the March-to-March gain, the index of physical volume was at a level 12% above a year ago. The dollar volume of business was well above the physical volume due to a general rise in prices.

Chadron Leads

Sixteen of 21 reporting cities noted general business increases, with Chadron reporting the biggest jump 10.4%. Other towns with higher business indexes were: Sidney 6.9, Fairbury 6.3, Fremont 6.1, Holdrege 4.3, Nebraska City 4.2, Columbus 4.2, Norfolk 3.5, Grand Island 3.1, Kearney 3.1, Beatrice 2.5, York 1.8, Omaha 1.4, Lincoln .4, and McCook .3.

Reporting declines were Scottsbluff -.7, South Sioux City -7, Falls City -8, Hastings -2.0, Broken Bow -2.7, and Alliance -7.4.

Business in Nebraska statistics also revealed a 5.5% increase in manufacturing employment in the state since the previous April.

The complete report on retail sales adjusted for seasonal changes:

News Media Begin Planning Promotion Of United Fund

Lincoln, a "million dollar city," provides millions of acts of kindness every year.

But it will take a million dollars to do it next year.

That was the pitch — and is the campaign goal — of the 1969 United Fund drive launched here Tuesday for representatives of the news media.

Previewing an entertaining and inspiring color-slide presentation the needs and services in Lincoln, press representatives were given a sample of the kind of training and campaigning that will be carried on to meet the capital city's first United Fund drive goal exceeding $1 million.

Although the official kick-off of the fund drive is not scheduled until Sept. 30, news media Tuesday began planning its contribution toward promotion.

General campaign chairman Ken Witt announced that the first solicitors' training session will be held next Monday and solicitations will begin by the first group two days later.

Contracts Obtained

Washington (UPI) — General Dynamics Corp. has obtained three Navy contracts totaling $10.7 million to overhaul and repair submarines.

Luci Announces Another Baby's Due This Winter

Washington (AP) — Mrs. Patrick J. Nugent, younger daughter of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, said Monday night she and her husband are expecting their second child in December or January.

Mrs. Nugent and her husband already are the parents of 2-year-old Patrick Lyndon.

Nugent works at radio-television station KTBC in Austin, Tex., which is owned by the Johnson family.

'Jennie Cox' Day Set At Arapahoe

Arapahoe (AP) — Sunday, July 20, has been designated as a day for recognition of Mrs. Ralph L. Jennie Cox, a long-time Nebraska newspaperwoman who retired June 1.

Mrs. Cox has been publisher of the Arapahoe Public Mirror since the death of her husband in 1961. Prior to that she had assisted him in publishing of the paper since 1929.

Picnics Planned; Offices To Close

City and county offices, except for the courts, will close at noon Wednesday to give employes an opportunity to attend the city and county annual picnics.

Summary of Conditions

The latest surface map shows a semistationary front, acting as a slow-moving cold front, on line from northeastern Minnesota to a broad low over extreme eastern South Dakota to southwestern Nebraska and into southern Wyoming. By noon Wednesday the front will be on line from eastern Lake Superior into north central or northwestern Iowa to near Omaha, northwestern Kansas and westward.

Temperatures Wednesday will be not so warm in parts of northern and western Nebraska and slightly cooler at night in east and south central Nebraska. The remainder of the state will be a little less warm Thursday. Skies through Wednesday night will be partly cloudy to locally cloudy in the zone of scattered showers or thunderstorms. There is a chance of scattered showers or thunderstorms mostly in north central Nebraska Wednesday night. Thursday will be variably cloudy with the chance of scattered morning showers.

Extended Forecasts

NEBRASKA: Temperatures for the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, will average near or slightly below normal with only minor day to day changes. Normal lows are in the 60s and normal highs are in the upper 80s to low 90s. Rainfall will average .40 to .60 of an inch occurring as occasional showers or thunderstorms.

KANSAS: For the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, temperatures will average near normal with temperatures turning cooler Friday or Saturday and otherwise only minor day to day changes. Normal lows are in the low to mid 60s in the west to about 70 in the southeast. Normal highs are in the low 90s. Rainfall will average .10 to .30 of an inch in the south and .30 to .50 of an inch in the north occurring as occasional scattered showers or thunderstorms mostly Saturday or Sunday.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

We enter today a short period of time unprecedented in the history of mankind. This morning we are scheduled to witness the launching of three American astronauts on a voyage that dwarfs in magnitude mankind's past adventures.

Relatively, the explorers and adventurers of the past may have taken greater risks and displayed more vision than is represented in today's Apollo 11 mission but in absolute terms there have been few if any accomplishments of the past to match this trip to the moon and back.

The adventure is a fantastic testimonial to mankind from a number of points of view. For one, it is a fantastic technological achievement, representing the culmination of 10 years of efforts in many fields of science.

But equally important is the fact that with the launching of the astronauts, our society serves notice that it does not intend to sit on its hands. It does not intend to live off the progress of the past, but rather, to make its own contribution to the world.

This is the essence of the voyage in the minds of the astronauts, too. They have said that the program is important because it demonstrates the continuing search of mankind for the truth, for an explanation of the unknown.

It is this quality of inquisitiveness that is so essential to our future, and not just in the area of advanced physics, engineering, etc. If we are to do anything about the liabilities of the world in which we live, we have to thirst for the new and unknown.

It is the lack of such motivation which is the problem in many areas of our public life today. Too many people think that everything would be all right if only we would let nature take its course.

If we did not give publicity to campus demonstrators, for instance, it is reasoned that this phenomenon would dissipate into thin air. If we did not recognize militancy in the civil rights movement, we would be able to handle the problems of discrimination.

The fallacy in all of this is that it relies upon the past. It assumes that abuses, evils and injustices that have come into being will, somehow, take care of themselves. It assumes that because the past has produced some good results, everything will turn out right if we do things in the same old way.

Such assumptions are really based on what seems to be an inherent inclination on the part of people to keep things as they are. Such an inclination is strong in those who have something to lose as a result of any change.

Those who have achieved substantial material wealth, those who have gained great influence and even those who live simply without great want often do not want to risk their achievement. To seek out new ways of doing things and to uncover new truths are to risk the position they have achieved.

In attempting to go to the moon and back, we are saying that we are not satisfied with the present, that there are elements of our world about which we do not know enough and about which we are determined to learn more.

And why would we do this? Simply because such a pursuit offers us the possibility of making it a better world in which to live. New knowledge of space may enable us to better understand and explain the origin of the earth and the place of mankind upon it.

Such a pursuit may enable us to greatly improve the natural environment in which we live. Certainly such pursuits open up to the nation new avenues of economic strength and development which are already apparent.

We very plainly do not know where it all might end but that is part of the marvel of the thing. We are willing to try, willing to say that the world can be a better place in which to live if we make an honest effort to change it.

Multiple Warhead

Recess 'Unthinkable'

Yesterday the Legislature killed the attempt of Sens. Terry Carpenter and Eugene Mahoney to recess the Legislature. Mahoney wanted a complete end to the session, while Carpenter said he wanted to recess until Sept. 22, so that the senators could find out from their constituents whether or not they want an economy budget.

At first glance, a recess does not sound like too bad an idea. First of all, it points up the need, as noted by Gov. Tiemann, for annual legislative sessions. Secondly, apparently Carpenter and other senators are unhappy with criticism, mad at the governor and grouchy with each other and a rest would do them good. They could come back in the fall with a fresh approach.

But really, early adjournment or a prolonged recess deserves the description given by Gov. Tiemann: "unthinkable and completely irresponsible." There is too much important work yet to do to recess.

Bills passed without the emergency clause after the end of the recess in mid-September possibly might not become effective until into 1970. For instance, the capital construction bill for the University of Nebraska. If it does pass, which is a sticky bet, it almost assuredly wouldn't get the 33 votes needed to attach the emergency clause and thus the university woldn't be able to start the new projects until next year.

Carpenter's real purpose in seeking a recess, however, was to go home with only the operational budget passed. He then says that if the people cried out for more services and for new programs already approved this session but not funded, the senators can come back to Lincoln and provide the money. But the people wouldn't have cried out for a bigger budget and the state's progress could have been immeasurably slow if the senators did not live up to their responsibility. We are happy the majority of legislators did not accept Carpenter's recess scheme; will finish the work expected of them and then will go home to a well-deserved rest.

Bright Light In Future

It may seem now and then that there is nothing but difficulty in the world but such is not the case. When we fret about the future and wonder what is going to become of the world, we do not think of such people as Victoria Burgin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Burgin of 2668 Sewell.

Miss Burgin has achieved the near-impossible — a perfect 4.5 average during the past full semester at the University of Nebraska. She led a long list of students who were in the upper one per cent of their class in academic standing.

In case you don't understand, a 4.5 is perfect. You just can't get a higher grade than that. And if you think it might be easy, just talk to the thousands of students who are in areas of 2 to 3 in their marks.

What the records show is that there are a great many young people of ability who are quietly gaining for themselves the best education possible. We will have plenty of problems in the years ahead but we will have a lot of people dedicated to the solution of those problems, too.

Not by a long-shot are all students erupting into violence or even making much of a scene of anything. Many thousands of them simply recognize the challenge and opportunity they face and are seeking to meet both head-on. Miss Burgin has carved an enviable record for herself and should give everyone a good shot of confidence in the future.

Good Ol' Summertime

Lincoln, Neb.

Has July always been so hot? No one used to complain about standing over a hot range, canning fruit or vegetables, baking bread and such. We used to heat the Saturday night bath water while Mom used the flat iron with its thick cloth pad to keep the handle from burning her hand while she pressed frilly white dresses for the girls to wear to Sunday school next day.

There were no cooling drinks. The butter was always soupy and sweet milk questionable. Somehow the house was always cool, with the green blinds pulled on the sunny side and all other screened windows and doors open to allow the friendly breeze to circulate through the rooms.

On the farms, there was always a deep, dark cellar below the house or just beyond the kitchen door. Here cooled crocks of home-churned butter, sweet milk and thick cream. Sometimes a bucket was lowered down into the well, in which milk and butter stayed temptingly edible.

There was the ice-box which dripped from the cake inside. If one didn't watch the pan beneath it ran all over the floor and a mop job was next. What a delight to chip off pieces to make delicious tea or lemonade, or just to hold a piece in one's mouth. No one grumbled, for this was the way of living.

Suddenly electricity was in common use in the home, and a beautiful white box appeared on the market. No more soupy butter or tainted milk. There were ice-cubes for refreshing drinks and meat stayed fresh for great lengths of time. Even greater was the amazing air-conditioner.

So one wonders if it used to be so hot on summer days. Those who make their living by outdoor work seem no worse for wear. It seems to be the indoor dwellers who can't stand heat and humidity. Are we less able to resist high temperatures because of the conveniences in which we indulge ourselves?

Protection Right

Aurora, Neb.

In behalf of Clayton E. Sheer, I think it is time someone wrote in defense of his letter that appeared recently in The Star.

Obviously the persons who wrote in opposition to him oppose the Second Amendment. It clearly states that the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed. This has proven to be very precious throughout history for our freedom. Today people deserve this right to protect themselves against the anarchists and communists who exist in our country today.

The Legislature's action does not insinuate that innocent people will be killed. More innocent people will die if the law is not passed because it gives the guilty anarchists and communists an open invitation to kill those who oppose them. And let's face it, they don't care if they themselves break the law.

Ernest C. Clement made some obvious exaggerations in his letter. Surely he knows that a civilized person won't kill another over a crummy chicken. Perhaps Mr. Clement would rather we all turned in our guns and allow things to just take their course. I'm sure that after a few years of living under communism, he would regret his decision.

Fine Director

Lincoln, Neb.

Having worked with the Children's Theater at the Lincoln Community Playhouse for many years and under five directors, I must once again say "hat's off" to our newest director, John R. Wilson. Our community should feel very proud of him. He is very community-minded and accomplished in all phases of his art.

The position Mr. Wilson holds is not an easy one. Anything attempted on our stage is a supreme challenge. He supervises with the utmost patience.

In the rough heat of this summer, these youngsters are working at full speed to give the public an entertaining and special production. If they can tolerate the heat, it is up to the public to support them. Many hot hours are spent in molding a play. I have yet to see Director Wilson resort to disturbing, hair-pulling methods to gain his point. The children love him for this. In spite of the heat, he directs with a smile.

The Futility Of Pursuing Devices

WASHINGTON — one of the senate's leading Republican is said to have observed privately that the controversy over an anti-ballistic missile system system was "a confrontation between the taxpayers and the munitions makers." That may be at the root of the question, but as it has developed to the point where the senate is almost ready to vote, a great deal more is at stake.

Everyone concedes that the issue is closed, but since the influential George Aiken of Vermont joined the opposition last week, the edge appears to be against President Nixon's Safeguard plan. At the least, it now appears unlikely that the administration can get outright approval for the proposal.

But the history of issues as complicated as this one is that one debate and one roll call seldom settle them; in congressional procedures and the American political process, there is so much room for maneuver that defeat or victory are only occasionally final. The Safeguard battle itself is only a continuation of the debate that began with Lyndon Johnson's Sentinel plan for an ABM

So whaetver happens in coming weeks, it is altogether likely that the last will not yet have been said and done in the ABM debate. Even so, what the senate does obviously will be of crucial importance in the final determination of this issue that may well be the most important of it's kind during Nixon's term in office.

It may well be that important, not only because of the money involved — which is not great, unless Safeguard leads on to a full-scale ABM system around our principal cities — and not even because of its potential effect on Soviet-American nuclear disarmament talks, whatever that effect might be. What is even more crucially involved in the Safeguard issue is the question of what priorities are going to be given to military attitudes and military devices in the never ending quest for national security.

Considering how much public and congressional opposition there is to safeguard, some limited authority to proceed would be a considerable — though perhaps pyrrhic — victory for the Pentagon and its congressional and industrial constituencies. On the other hand, if this formidable complex of forces can be defeated on this issue — with presidential prestige and power entirely on its side, with Secretary Laird playing every note on the anti-communists, anti-Moscow scale, with the mystique of superior military knowledge, as well as secret intelligence, fully invoked—if the Pentagon loses in such circumstances, a turning point may well have been reached.

In the Pentagon itself, defeat on the ABM issue might lead military and civilian officials to recognize that Congress is at last ready to make a stand against unlimited military expenditure in the quest for security. So long as security was regarded largely as a military matter, and so long as any outlay of funds could be authorized if it were touted as increasing security, the Pentagon could go on demanding more and more weapons, more and more autonomy in determining what is and what is not necessary for security, and more and more money to support both.

Even the debate on Safeguard, with all the ambiguities, contradictions, weaknesses and questions it has disclosed, would have helped persuade the public that at this stage of history and technology, what one great power can build and deploy, another can overcome — and probably will believe itself forced to. In such circumstances there can be little further security in devices; what man needs instead is sensible political arrangements to help manage those he has. It can at least be hoped that defeat for Safeguard might turn the tide.

Space Engineers See Future Steps

LOS ANGELES — A group of aerospace engineers, who built most of the capsules in which three Americans will hurtle to the moon today, were having dinner on the eve of the launch.

The men who had built the Apollo 11 to make the moon flight possible enumerated some of the things to be gained in outer space.

No life is expected to be found on the moon, no oxygen, no water, nor anything making it possible for man to live there. But the astronauts will be able to bring back priceless rocks which will give the key to the blank pages in the earth's four-billion-year history.

Ten more flights to the moon are planned by NASA within the next three years, and North American Rockwell has thirteen more Apollos in the process of completion, so they could be sent to Cape Kennedy for launching at the rate of one per month.

These flights will determine how man can live, not on the moon, but in outer space. For instance, if heart patients could live in hospitals in outer space, the rarified atmosphere would give them a much better chance of recovery.

If factories could be developed in outer space, the shaping of glassware, would be simplified. Ball-bearings could be shaped, completely round, with no difficulty because of the lack of air-pressure. But the most immediate use of outer space can be a telephone system by which man can phone from Gaithersburg, Md., to Tashkent, Soviet Russia, for the same price he can phone between Washington and its suburbs.

This can be developed by putting an orbiting telephone switchboard in outer space, no bigger than a basketball, which can sort out phone calls and relay them around the world, without benefit of telephone operators. "Then J. Edgar Hoover won't have any telephone wires to tap," I suggested.

The space engineers around the dinner table dealt with the elusive problems of outer space, not the elusive problems of politics. There was no rejoinder to my wise-crack.

There continued instead serious discussion of when we could reach Mars, Jupiter, and Venus. The question was not "whether," but "when." These men were not accustomed to being discouraged or stopped. They had moved mountains, they were conquering the moon. They were not interested in "whether" but "when." It would take two and a half years, they estimated, to reach Jupiter.

Travel Boom Affecting Balance Of Payments; Incoming Tourist Factor Does Not Compensate

WASHINGTON — Now it's the travel explosion. As though not a word had ever been spoken about seeing America first, the perils of the dollar balance and the gold outflow, Americans in unprecedented numbers are rushing off to foreign shores.

The fly-now, pay-later plan is said to account for a large part of the travel boom. The low rate on chartered flights is another reason. Clubs, often improvised for the purpose, sign up for a charter at a cost to members far below that of regular airline charge.

Travel bargains are attracting those who never before ventured out of the United States. An exemple is a 22-day escorted tour of six countries (If it's Tuesday, this is Belgium) for $495, which includes round-trip fare, meals and hotel. At that rate, the bargain hunter argues, you can hardly afford to stay home.

An unhappy consequence of the travel boom is a virtual breakdown, or at any rate a frustrating slowdown, in the issuance of passports. Long lines of irate citizens at every passport center, and particularly in New York, reflect the clogged passport machinery. The most irate citizen is Director Frances G. Knight of the State Department's Passport Office. The tart-tongued Miss Knight has run an efficient shop. She was caught in the travel deluge without the essential extra personnel through no fault of hers, according to her staff.

What happened is an example of the penny-wise, dollar-foolish economy policies prevailing in other departments as well as State. Miss Knight had asked State's budget-makers for funds for the fiscal year just ended to put on an additional 22 persons on a permanent basis. For the current fiscal year she asked for another 24, a total of 64 considered the minimum to care for the ever-rising demand.

Nothing quite like the present travel boom had been anticipated. Total applicants for passports in June were 36 per cent above June a year ago. The daily average is close to 12,000, running 30 per cent above 1968. The staff of the Passport Office is on a 10-to-12-hour-a-day schedule which includes Saturdays. Especially galling to Miss Knight is that the passport operation more than pays its way. The operating budget is $5 million, while the office takes in more than $15 million in passport fees.

The travel boom is expected to slacken as the rush of summer trippers subsides. The plight of the Passport Office is evidence of the urgent need for an overhaul of the system. Aside from the passport offices in 10 cities, reliance has been on federal or state courts. With clogged court calendars, there is increasing reluctance to perform this function.

The passport tangle is only one comparatively small example of how the narrow frame of government has been inadequate to encompass the swiftly expanding economy and the rise in a population with more education bent on foreign travel. Both high-school and college students are on the move as never before.

The expansion in the private sector has been sparked by a credit explosion. Ever new credit devices have sent the debt total of private individuals soaring to unprecedented levels.

The total of installment credit as of May 31 for autos, home appliances, television sets and the whole range of buy-now - and - pay - by - the-month goods was an almost incredible $91.8 billion. This represented a jump of $9.5 billion in the previous 12 months. An added $2.3 billion was outstanding in credit cards and check-credit plans. These figures do not include real estate and insurance loans.

The outflow of tourist dollars is an important factor in the balance-of-payments problem. Various cures were considered under the Johnson administration, including taxes on airline tickets and a limit imposed on the amount the tourist could spend. The travel industry was powerful enough to fend off these remedies and now the Nixon administration is faced with the same situation enhanced by the travel boom.

An effort has been made with limited success to offset the outflow by persuading foreign visitors to come to America. For the first five months of this year, 557,948 foreigners bent on either business or pleasure came to the United States, an increase of 17 per cent over the same period in 1968. It did not include nearly 11,000,000 visits of over 72 hours by Canadians and half a million Mexican visitors. Measured against the horde of Americans leaving by every available plane and ship, the offset is small.

A far more serious side of the narrow frame of government is the airport and airways squeeze. At principal airports, the overcrowding is intolerable and the air controllers repeatedly testify to the hazards of hundreds of near-misses in the corridors where traffic is heaviest. This is without the jumbo jets to come into service in the fall. The White House has proposed a long-range plan calling for quick expansion and the taxes to pay for it. Delay will imperil life and limb as well as a major industry.

School Board Hikes Salary For Operational Personnel

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Salary increases averaging $897 per employe were approved for custodians and other operational personnel by the Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday.

The salary schedule established for operational employes amounts to 71% of the recently raised union scale for laborers.

But school board members served notice that they do not intend to be bound by a percentage of the union scale in future years. They passed a resolution stating that the board intends to "establish a more equitable basis for pay scales" next year.

Representatives of the operational employes had requested a salary schedule based on 73% of the union scale for laborers or an average increase of $1,053 next year.

71% of Union Scale

Last year operational employes were paid 71% of the union scale for laborers set three years ago.

Board members have taken no action on salary increases for maintenance personnel. However, salaries amounting to 75% of the union scale for comparable trades, such as electricians and plumbers, have been incorporated into the 1969-70 proposed budget apparently without board objection. Maintenance employes had asked for salaries at that level. Approval of the budget would constitute approval of the maintenance wages.

After a public hearing on the full budget 7 p.m. next Tuesday in the Public School Administration Building, the board is expected to act on the budget July 29.

4½ Mill Rate

In a continuing review of the proposed 1969-70 school district budget, Supt. John Prasch indicated that the total mill levy increase may be about 4½ mills up to 60.9 mills, assuming a $300 million assessed valuation.

Earlier estimates had put the predicted increase at approximately six mills.

The estimated 60.9 mill levy that will be required to finance next year's budget includes a 1.5 mill levy tax for the vocational and adult courses which are being placed in a separate account for the first time.

Asks Smaller Budget

Total budget for the vocational-technical school, which includes the community services division of Adult High School, adult basic education and general education courses and the occupational division with full-time vocational training, is estimated at $734,100, requiring some $452,640 in local taxes.

However, Prasch informed the board that although the $734,100 budget would be presented at the public hearing he would recommend a budget "somewhat smaller" for next year "to be sure we can mount all the programs being proposed."

In other action Tuesday the board awarded the general contract for a nine-room addition to Maude Rousseau school to the Kingery Construction Co. for $217,793.

Over First Estimate

The electrical contract was awarded to ABC Electric Co. for $28,400. E. O. Peters Co. received the mechanical contract for $83,567.

Total cost of the project, $329,760, is $9,760 over the architect's estimate.

Prasch said the $18.63 cost per square foot for the addition, more than $3 higher than the original building's square foot cost, includes such extras as folding doors instead of interior classroom walls and all carpeted classrooms.

Architect Ken Clark told the board that it would be "unrealistic" to plan on completion of the addition by second semester. Construction is expected to be finished in March.

Board members rejected architect R. O. Freeman's request for an additional payment of $1,500 for work on the Northeast High School cafeteria project.

Educators To Study Program Evaluation

Dr. Robert Stake, associate director of the Center for Instructional Research and Curriculum Evaluation at the University of Illinois in Urbana, will keynote a two-week evaluation seminar held by the Lincoln Public Schools.

Stake will address some 40 Lincoln principals, consultants and representatives of the University of Nebraska, Educational Service Unit 6 and State Department of Education, next Monday morning

A $16,898 grant received under Title IV of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education act is financing the evaluation seminar, including stipends for participants.

The seminar, directed by administrative assistant for planning and evaluation James Sanders, has been designed to train administrators in program evalutaion techniques and to start evaluation of certain school programs that will be continued after the conference.

Evaluation projects will include elementary counseling, federal programs and several curriculum programs, according to Sanders.

Also addressing the seminar will be Supt. John Prasch; Dr. Randall Klemme, vice president of Northern Natural Gas in Omaha; Ray Manion and John Anderson, both research and evaluation specialists for the Mid-Continent Regional Educational Laboratory; NU Prof Robert Brown and J. A. Perkins, management consultant for Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co.

Society Needs More Space, Board Says

The Nebraska State Historical Society will ask the legislature to study the need for more space in the society's facilities at the University of Nebraska.

At a Tuesday executive board meeting, Marvin F. Kivett, director of the society, said the present facilities were "barely adequate" in 1953 when the state archives and other items of state history were placed there.

Also, Kevitt said resources were needed for an improved agricultural museum now located in a former ordinance plant at Mead.

The executive board also discussed the acquisition of the Neligh Mill, which they hope to acquire with the aid of a $5,000 grant recently made available by the legislature.

Kivett said LB1380 will provide the funds if the State Historical Society can acquire the mill within one year. Otherwise, he said, the money will be returned to the legislature's general fund.

The mill, built in 1873, would be restored to operating condition by the society and be opened for tourists during the summer, Kivett said.

In other action the board approved a 1969-70 budget totaling $805,646.

Air Unit Okays Maximum Levy

A 1.1 mill levy was approved Tuesday by the Lincoln Airport Authority for the 1969-70 fiscal year.

The levy, collected by the city, is the maximum the law allows the airport authority.

City Finance Director James Mallon said the levy would bring in around $280,000 based on the city's present valuation.

Board members agreed to grant the city an easement on land the airport authority has control over if the authority's engineering consultant okays the easement.

Assistant City Attorney Charles Humble told the airport authority that the city needs an easement on the land so that a sanitary sewer can be installed to serve the Union Pacific Industrial Tract.

The airport authority members also decided to seek bids for construction of a hangar to house the jet aircraft owned by the Bankers Life of Nebraska.

The insurance firm will pay the entire costs plus ground rental should the hangar be built.

Chauncey Barney, the authority's legal advisor, said the firm wants to get the aircraft under shelter before winter comes.

Members also took the following action:

—approved repairing part of roof at General Aviation Building.
—approved repairing Cheney St. Bridge.
—approved permitting road rally in Lincoln Air Park West if permission can be obtained from City Council.
—approved requesting federal participation money for overlay on the diagonal runway.
—approved renting a building to Lincoln Steel for manufacturing trailers.
—approved agreements with Continental Airlines and Miller Seed Co.

Pollution Board Ponders Burning Issue

The need for a change in burning procedures at the city's sanitary landfill site was discussed during a meeting of the Air Pollution Control Advisory Board meeting Tuesday.

Les Sanger, air pollution control officer, said the landfill "contributes to the overall air pollution problem in Lincoln."

"It is important that something be done if the city is to improve it's image," he said.

During discussion of the problem by board members, Sanger said the need for more land might triple if the burning of refuse were curtailed.

He opposed the idea of using an incinerator as an alternative appraoch.

At the suggestion of Carl Kopines, assistant City attorney, a motion was adopted that an intensive study be made about the situation.

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf said Kopines and Sanger should get together with Public Works Director Robert Obering about the problem.

Sanger said in his annual report to the board that "the quality of Lincoln's air has not deteriorated during the past 12 months — in a sense the quality has improved.

He said at least part of this measure of air quality may be attributed to control of open-burning and several industrial point sources.

During the meeting, board members elected Mrs. J. Edmunds Miller as chairman.

W. F. Weiland was elected vice chairman.

Property Value Protest Is Heard; Board Overrules

The Lincoln City Council, sitting as the Board of Equalization Tuesday, heard only one resident protest the assessed property valuation.

Vincent Brown, of 1015 Dale Dr., objected to the $1,400 valuation on a vacant lot in the Chez Ami Knolls area.

Brown asserted that he should be assessed less because a water main servicing the area is not connected to his lot.

The board overruled the objection saying water service was available.

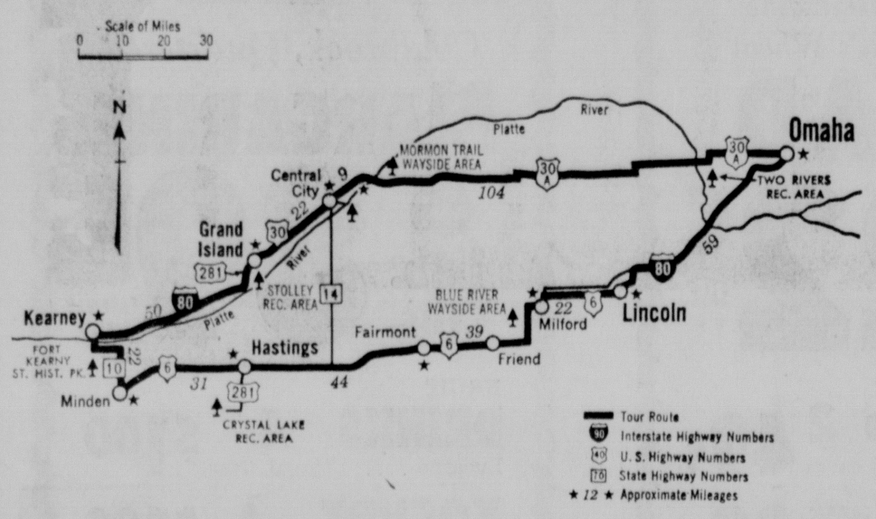
Mini-Vacation.

Take the family on this close-to-home auto tour this weekend. They'll love it.



THIS 402-mile weekend drive takes you to recreation areas and reminders of pioneer days. Part of it runs along The Old West Trail which you may wish to drive on your regular vacation. The Trail winds through Nebraska, the Dakotas, Wyoming and Montana. You may begin at the point nearest you.

0 MILES. OMAHA. Follow U.S. Alt. 30 due west. East of the Platte River is TWO RIVERS RECREATION AREA, where you can fish, swim, camp or picnic. Now keep west for...

104m. JUNCTION WITH U.S. 30. Here lies the old Dexter Farm, site of a former Pawnee Indian village. Just east of U.S. 30 on U.S. 30A is the MORMON TRAIL WAYSIDE AREA. At the junction, bear southwest on U.S. 30.

135m. GRAND ISLAND. THE STUHR MUSEUM displays a restored pioneer village. Take U.S. 281 about 1½ miles southwest of town. On the site of old Fort Independence is STOLLEY RECREATION AREA. Continue on U.S. 281 to Int. 80 and go southwest on Int. 80 to . . .

185m. KEARNEY, the seat of Buffalo County, and the home of KEARNEY STATE COLLEGE. Here is the modern descendant of old Fort Kearny, established in 1848 to protect Oregon Trail travelers. Take Route 10 south and east from town to the spot, now FORT KEARNY STATE HISTORICAL PARK. Drive south on Route 10 to . . .

207m. MINDEN, the seat of Kearney County. The HAROLD WARP PIONEER VILLAGE,

covering some 20 acres, is a family attraction. You'll find a sod house, country school, general store, a railway depot, government land office, Pony Express station and an Indian fort 100 years old. Here's a great place to take pictures! There are more than 30,000 items on display, from clocks, guns and keepsakes to old locomotives, autos and planes. There are also craft shops. Leaving Minden, drive east on U.S. 6 to . . .

238m. HASTINGS. Visit HASTINGS COLLEGE. The FISHER RAINBOW FOUNTAIN features displays of colored water jets. J. M. MCDONALD PLANETARIUM has regular shows on outer space. The HASTINGS MUSEUM contains an extensive collection of fossils, fauna and mineral exhibits. At the House of Yesterday, in the museum, you'll see a pioneer general store, firearms, early farm machinery and vehicles. Adjacent to it are "Native Grass Plots." About 10 miles southwest on U.S. 281 lies CRYSTAL LAKE RECREATION AREA. Drive east of Hastings on U.S. 6 to . . .

282m. FAIRMONT. Continue east on U.S. 6. Between Friend and Milford is BLUE RIVER WAYSIDE AREA.

321m. JCT. WITH INTERSTATE 80. Interstate 80 leads northeast to Omaha. But you will miss a great deal if you don't take U.S. 6 into Lincoln. Interesting sights include the imposing CAPITOL BUILDING, UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA STATE MUSEUM, lovely parks and the STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY MUSEUM. The superhighway soon crosses the Platte River and eases back to your starting place.

402m. OMAHA.

Exemption Removal Rejected

The Legislature Tuesday rejected on a 17-27 vote Sen. Terry Carpenter's proposal to remove the sales tax exemptions on electricity and energy fuel now enjoyed by business and agriculture.

Removal of the exemption would have increased revenue from the sales tax by millions of dollars, it was estimated.

Carpenter said the exemptions were written into the sales-income tax law in 1967 in order to get the bill passed.

Middle-income citizens are "dissatisfied" with tax policies, both nationally and in the state, he said, because of special privileges accorded to certain segments of society.

Wealthy citizens benefit from tax exemptions, and poor people receive welfare payments, Carpenter said. The middle-level citizen pays the bill, he noted.

Opponents of the motion said it would discourage industrial development and alter the sales tax from a consumer tax, as originally intended.

The broad exemption now includes sales and purchases of electricity, coal, gas, fuel oil, diesel fuel, tractor fuel, propane, gasoline, oil and coke used in agriculture, industry, commerce and business.

Here's how senators voted on the Carpenter proposal:

For (17): Bloom, Carpenter, Carstens, Danner, Elrod, Hanna, Klaver, Luedtke, Mahoney, Marvel, Moylan, Orme, Pedersen, Reynolds, Robinson, Simpson, Waldron.

Against (27): Batchelder, Budd, Burbach, Clark, Craft, Duis, Harsh, Johnson, Kennedy, Keyes, Knight, Kokes, Kremer, Nore, Proud, Schmit, Schreurs, Stull, Syas, Waldo, Wallwey, Warner, Wenzlaff, Whitney, Wiltze, Wylie, Ziebarth.

Absent or not voting (5): Hasebroock, Holmquist, Moulton, Skarda, Swanson.

Douglas County Merit System Bill Advanced

A revived bill establishing a merit system for employes of the Douglas County sheriff's office received first round floor approval in amended form on a 42-0 vote of the Legislature Tuesday.

The measure, LB784, had been killed earlier, but was revived last week on a reconsideration motion entered by the bill's chief sponsor, Sen. William R. Skarda Jr. of Omaha.

The only debate Tuesday dealt with the composition of the sheriff's merit commission to administer the system.

Changes For Lieutenant Governor Proposed

By Associated Press

The constitutional amendment propositions which Nebraskans will be invited to vote upon at next year's general election climbed Tuesday to 15.

Passed 31-13 by the Legislature was a bill submitting to voters three proposals to change the role of Nebraska's lieutenant governor. Thirty approving votes were required.

The propositions called for in the measure, LB1160:

—Eliminate the lieutenant governor as presiding officer of the Legislature, eliminate his right to vote in case of a tie, and permit the Legislature to choose its own presiding officer.

—Provide that the lieutenant governor and governor candidates of a political party shall run as a team.

—Make the lieutenant governorship a full time position, with the lieutenant governor authorized to serve on boards and commissions in lieu of the governor at the governor's convenience and perform such other duties as may be delegated him by the governor.

Current Rules

At present, the lieutenant governor earns $6,000 a year — although pending legislation would raise the pay to $7,500 — for presiding over the biennial regular sessions and special sessions of the Legislature, and sitting in for the governor in his absence outside the state.

LB1160 was proposed by the Little Hoover Commission and sponsored by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann.

Although it's the 13th constitutional amendment bill passed so far this session, it was the first to contain more than one proposition for submission.

Tank Trucks

Another bill passed Tuesday, LB1306, sets minimum requirements for the construction of tank trucks transporting anhydrous ammonia over the public highways of the state. It also requires anhydrous ammonia railroad tank cars to comply with federal standards, and sets misdemeanor penalties which can range up to a $500 fine for each day of violation.

Approved 43-0 on final reading, LB1306 was prompted in part by fatalities at Crete resulting from a train derailment and rupture of an anhydrous ammonia tank car.

How senators voted Tuesday on final passage of LB1160, a bill submitting to voters in 1970 constitutional amendment proposals to change the role of the lieutenant governor:

For (31): Batchelder, Budd, Burbach, Carpenter, Clark, Danner, Duis, Elrod, Hanna, Johnson, Keyes, Klaver, Kremer, Luedtke, Mahoney, Marvel, Orme, Proud, Robinson, Schmit, Schreurs, Simpson, Skarda, Stull, Swanson, syas, Waldo, Waldron, Wenzlaff, Wiltse, Ziebarth.

Against (13): Carstens, Craft, Harsh, Kennedy, Knight, Moylan, Nore, Pedersen, Reynolds, Wallwey, Warner, Whitney, Wylie.

Absent or not voting (5): Bloom, Hasebroock, Holmquist, Kokes, Moulton.

Hruska Says Mafia Causes New Woes

Zion, Ill. (AP) — Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., said Tuesday infiltration and takeover of legitimate businesses by organized crime presents police and prosecutors with new and complicated problems.

Hruska, ranking member of the Senate Criminal Laws Subcommittee and author of pending legislation to crack down on the Mafia, addressed the First organized Crime Regional Training Conference at the Illinois State Beach Lodge.

"Because Cosa Nostra is expanding beyond its traditional fields of gambling, narcotics, vice, loan sharking and labor racketeering and is invading the legitimate business community," Hruska said, "it is appropriate that we consider new approaches in our efforts to combat the new menace."

Hruska said his subcommittee and the Department of Justice are studying ways to apply federal antitrust laws to break what he called the Mafia hold on business enterprises.

Although the extent of criminal invasion of businesses is unknown, Hruska said, enough is known about the operations to know the annual take is in the billions of dollars.

Hruska said Cosa Nostra take-over of established business is not limited to the high crime areas of Chicago, New York or Miami.

"From the seemingly sedate business transactions of Wall Street to the cheese manufacturer here in the heartland of the nation, the Mafia has penetrated the business community to the detriment of us all," he said.

Unicam Nixes Recess Plan

Nebraska's Legislature rejected Tuesday a proposal to take a two-month recess during which soundings of citizen sentiment could be taken.

Lawmakers also rejected a proposal to set Aug. 1 as the target date for an adjournment sine die.

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter made the motion to take a break starting with the adjournment hour Wednesday and running to Sept. 23. It was defeated on a 31-12 vote.

Sen. Eugene T. Mahoney of Omaha then moved that Aug. 1 be set as the date for adjournment sine die.

Several senators arose to support the Mahoney move on grounds Aug. 1 would be a good target date for adjournment and would encourage the Unicameral to speed its work in the interim.

But Mahoney's motion lost on a 17-23 vote.

Sen. Bill K. Bloom of Omaha was defeated 15-22 in an effort to amend Carpenter's motion and have the proposed recess end on Sept. 2 instead of Sept. 23.

During the discussion, Sen. George Syas of Omaha scolded colleagues for not making work days longer. Sen. Henry F. Pedersen Jr. of Omaha then proposed standard work days of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. This was interpreted as a rules change requiring referral to the Rules Committee.

Solons To Watch

The Legislature decided Tuesday to convene at 9:30 A.M. Wednesday instead of the customary 9 A.M. so lawmakers may view the televised blastoff of the Apollo 11 lunar mission.

Children Indicted By Grand Jury For 12 Murders

Parkersburg, W. Va. (AP) — Two teen-agers, who police say admitted setting a fire that killed their 10 brothers and sisters, were indicted by the Wood County grand jury Tuesday on 12 counts of murder each.

Susie Bailey, 15, and her 13-year-old brother, Roger, were accused in the June 8 deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey and the family's other children at the conclusion of a day and a half of testimony.

The children had been charged with murder only in the death of their father, a 40-year-old county maintenance supervisor.

Hardin Rules Out Abrupt Cut In Farm Subsidies

©The New York Times

Washington — The Nixon administration ruled out Tuesday any abrupt cut in the $3 billion a year federal farm price support system.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin said that "for the foreseeable future — and I don't know the number of years — we are going to need price support programs for several of our commodities."

He also said he would like to see the food stamp program to aid the poor handled separately from a general farm bill. But Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., chairman of the committee, insisted that the "production and distribution of food should be kept together and brought to the House floor at the same time."

Seeks Leverage

Poage is seeking leverage to make certain that present farm programs are continued, without major change. Toward this end, he has put the food stamp program in the farm bill to attract support of urban members who would like to slash farm subsidies and use more money to feed the poor.

Nearly all of the 33 members of the House panel attended the hearing before a standing-room-only audience that had expected to hear some verbal fireworks during Hardin's first formal public appearance before the committee. Instead it was a quiet affair, ranging over a multitude of farm problems and food stamp problems.

Even the protection of consumers got some attention. Rep. Graham Purcell, D-Tex., questioned the advisability of retiring large chunks of land from crop production and turning the land to cattle grazing.

Sees Meat Price Rise

Livestock producers, he said, would hold back breeding stock instead of sending them to market and a rise in the consumers' price of meat. Of course, he said, the price would fall as cows produced more calves but this would be over the long run.

Hardin, who is considering proposing some form of a land retirement program to hold down surplus production, agreed and said any land withdrawal should be "gradual." Further, he said, the administration was not yet committed to any one land retirement idea.

He said it would be desirable to hold about 60 million acres out of production for the rest of this century to avoid overproduction. He expected an increase in production from presently cultivated acres every year for the next two decades.

Speedup Forced

He also acknowledged that the administration had been forced into speeding up its plan to present revisions in the farm program because the House committee wanted to move more rapidly. Now, he said, the administration expected to have some specific recommendations "maybe in September."

Hardin sought to allay fears that he was pushing aid to farmers in favor of food stamps. Farmers, he said, were caught in a cost-free squeeze and their returns were not equal to nonfarm workers.

He defended his proposal for free stamps to the very poor to enable them to purchase food for a balanced diet in grocery stores. "We are proposing a program that will allow participants — although not necessarily guarantee—to obtain at least a nutritionally adequate diet," he said.

Public Defender Measure Amended

The Legislature Tuesday amended proposed public defender legislation to authorize district court judges to establish public defender salaries and to assign defenders to function in more than one judicial district.

Judges will also determine, in establishing salaries, whether a judicial district needs a full-time or part-time defender.

Amendments were offered by Sen. Fred Carstens of Beatrice in order to meet expressed objections to his bill, LB950, and reduce its projected costs.

Revised Bill

Under the revised bill, public defenders within the state's judicial districts would represent indigent accused persons in felony cases, post-conviction proceeding involving felony charges, indigent minors in juvenile court and persons brought before the county board of mental health.

District judges are authorized to determine when or whether a public defender is needed within their judicial district.

The bill was held for consideration of a kill motion filed by Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland, who was absent when the measure was amended.

Carstens said LB950 is needed to assure "proper counsel" for indigent accused persons, and thereby better secure justice for all citizens.

Air Pollution

In other amendatory action, the Legislature revised the membership of the proposed state air pollution control council to eliminate industry's majority membership.

The bill, LB546, as previously amended, had given industry seven members of a 12-member council assigned to promulgate air pollution control proposals.

As amended Tuesday, industry will hold six seats on a 15-member council. Added to the unit were representatives of the cities, the counties and conservation interests.

The council would function within the Department of Health.

Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha won consent for the revised membership, and the bill was sent on its way to final reading.

Legion Elects

Tekamah — Eugene Chamberlain has been elected commander of the American Legion post. He succeeds Jack Shamburg. Other officers elected were Chuck Huff, vice commander; Keith Palmer, adjutant; C. E. Mock, treasurer; Father W. J. Borer, chaplain; Jack Shamburg, service officer; Richard Gibbs, sergeant-at-arms.

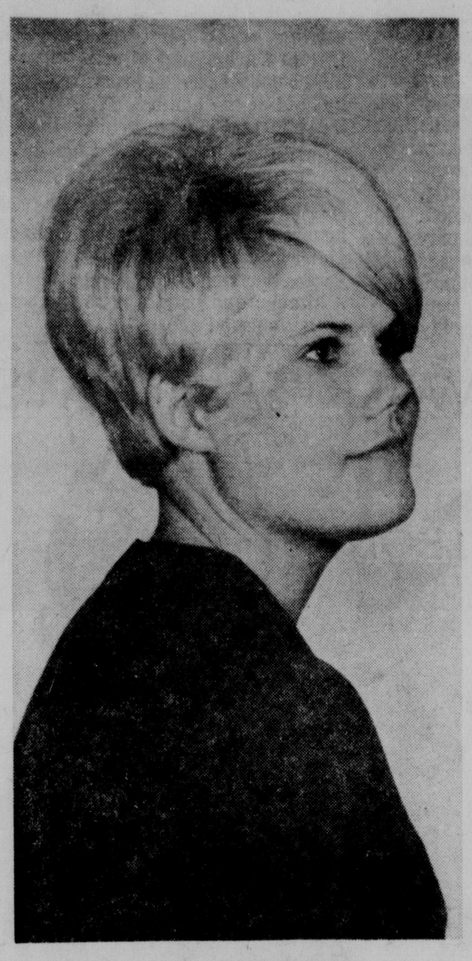
Coed Is Bride At Morning Wedding



In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, the marriage of Miss Christine Ann Dell, daughter of Mrs. Mary Ann Bennies Dell and of Ferdinand J. Dell, to David Dale Christensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Christensen of Fullerton, was solemnized on Thursday morning, July 3. The Rev. Charles L. Livingston read the lines of the 10 o'clock service at the First Christian Church in Kearney.

Wearing an afternoon frock of green and yellow floral-printed chiffon was Miss Nancy Lundgren of Kearney, who attended Miss Dell as maid of honor. She carried a nosegay of white and yellow daisies.

Serving Mr. Christensen as best man was Tim Anderson of Kearney.

The bride chose white chiffon for her wedding costume. A row of narrow lace edged the crescent neckline of the Empire gown, which was designed with an accordion-pleated skirt in the daytime length. She carried an arrangement of white sweetheart roses and daisies.

Mr. and Mrs. Christensen, both former students at Kearney State College, will make their home in Lynch. The bride is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, and Mr. Christensen's fraternity is Sigma Phi Epsilon.

It's 'Go' In Suburbia, Too

Excitement is the word for the day. Excitement in Lincoln, all over the United States and around the world. Television and radio sets have had everyone's attention and we would predict that they will continue to do so for quite some time. History is in the making, and everyone wants to witness it in one way or another.

Although the residents of suburbia are occupied with thoughts of "Fly Me To The Moon", "Up, Up and Away", and "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" today, they do have other summer activities on their minds too.

Travel — not the outer space kind — is on the agenda for several residents of suburbia and a little entertaining. Two of our earth-bound travelers are Mr. and Mrs. DeLoyd Larsen who will be flying to Washington, D.C., Tuesday, July 22, to attend a convention of Cosmopolitan International. Mr. Larsen is the president of the Lincoln Cosmopolitan Club.

While their parents are in Washington, young Lori and Randy Larsen will be guests of their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arne Larsen in Hebron. Sunday, July 27, Mr. and Mrs. Larsen will return to their Maple Village home.

Planning a long weekend trip — from Friday, Aug. 8, to Monday, Aug. 11 — are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hayman and family. Friday the Haymans will go to O'Neill where they will visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Siemer and young children, Kris and Michael.

From O'Neill Mr. and Mrs. Hayman will go to Ponca State Park for some camping experiences before they return to their Maple Village home on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tavis and children, Denise, 13, Scott, eight, and Frank, four, will leave their Southbrook Summit home Saturday for a vacation in Texas. The first stop on their schedule, once they arrive in Texas, is Odessa where they will be the house guests of Mrs. Tavis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bynum.

Next Mr. and Mrs. Tavis and their family and Mr. and Mrs. Bynum will drive to Galveston where they will visit with friends and relatives before going to Galveston Island and several other small islands near it. While they are on their island retreat they plan to do some deep sea fishing before packing up to begin the trip back to Lincoln. They will return home Wednesday, July 30.

The entertaining we mentioned was a party Friday evening, July 11, at the Eastborough home of Mr. and Mrs. Bille Genschoreck and the hostess was their 10-year-old daughter, Carmen. Miss Carmen decided the best way to bid farewell to her friend Miss Kim Butterfield was to have a slumber party with Miss Kim as her guest of honor. The young Miss Butterfield and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Butterfield, will be moving to St. Louis, Mo., soon.

ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently moved into a very nice, one-bedroom apartment which we furnished ourselves.

Last evening some neighbors we hardly know stopped by for a drink, and the woman says, "You said you were going away on a two-week vacation in September, so would you mind if we used your apartment for some friends who will be visiting us at that time?"

Before I could open my mouth, my husband said YES (after two martinis). I could have brained him.

After they left I told my husband I didn't want strangers using our apartment, and I didn't feel I owed our negihbors that kind of favor.

My husband says he thinks I'm right, and now he's sorry he said yes, but he hasn't the guts to tell them we've changed our minds. Well, I haven't got the guts to tell them either, but I don't want to turn this apartment over to strangers, so what do you suggest?

STUCK

DEAR STUCK: People without "guts" are frequently stuck. Your husband should tell your neighbors you've reconsidered. But if he can't gather the "guts," you must. The alternative is to let them come and take your chances.

DEAR ABBY: For the past year I have had a very good cleaning woman once a week. Recently she mentioned to me that one family she works for on a similar basis pays her when they go on their vacation even tho she doesn't do anything for them while they are away.

Is this customary? And why do you think she mentioned it?

OAK PARK

DEAR OAK: No, it's not customary, but it's good insurance against losing a valued employee. And she probably mentioned it to you because she hoped YOU'D take the hint.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MISS PHYLLIS RAWE

Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Rawe of Carrollton, Ill., make announcement this morning of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Phyllis Marie, to Jule M. Uldrich of Jacksonville, Ill., formerly of Lincoln, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Uldrich of Tobias and the nephew of Miss Emily Krisal of Lincoln.

The wedding will take place on Sept. 20, and the ceremony will be solemnized at St. John's Church in Carrollton.

Miss Rawe is careering in Jacksonville, Ill.

Mr. Uldrich is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and now is associated with Oscar Mayer as a station manager in Jacksonville.

MISS NANCY PETTIGREW

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. John P. Pettigrew of Superior of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy Ruth, to Gary C. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Young, also of Superior.

An August wedding is planned.

Miss Pettigrew attended Nebraska Wesleyan University, where she is a member of Delta Zeta sorority, and will enter the Bryan Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in the fall.

Mr. Young is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he now is working toward his doctorate in chemical engineering.

Bride-Elect Honored

The party calendar has been filled with courtesies for Miss Marla Jean Novak of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph J. Novak of Dorchester, whose marriage to Philip A. Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hansen of Friend, will take place on Friday, July 18.

The bride-to-be was presented a miscellaneous shower last Thursday, July 10, at a party held at the Methodist Church in Dorchester. Hostesses included Mrs. Leon Gerner, Mrs. Floyd August, Mrs. Miles Kasper, Mrs. Floyd Gausman, Mrs. Frank Bosak, Mrs. Anton Tesar, Mrs. Jack Beckley, Mrs. Lester Wielage, Mrs. Fred Vossler and Mrs. Carl Weber.

A pantry shelf shower was presented to Miss Novak on Wednesday evening, July 9, at a party given in Milford by a group of hostesses including Mrs. Darryl Novak, Milford; Mrs. David Rezabek, Dorchester; Mrs. Mel Aerni, Columbus; Miss Yvonne Bernt and Miss Joyce Koester, Lincoln.

Recent courtesies also include the shower for which a group of Miss Novak's former high school classmates were hostesses in Dorchester, and the party given by Mrs. Allen Gifford and Mrs. Maurice Mitchell at the home of Mrs. Gifford in Friend.

Also entertaining in courtesy to Miss Novak recently were her aunts, Mrs. Kenneth Kemper, Mrs. Robert Novak, Mrs. Lumir Novak and Mrs. Jim Andelt, who were hostesses to 35 guests at a party held in Crete.

For the evening ceremony, to be solemnized at the First Congregational Church in Crete, Miss Novak has named Miss Yvonne Bernt of Lincoln, as her maid of honor.

The bridesmaids will be Miss Cherlene Severyn of Fairfield, Calif.; Mrs. David Rezabek, Dorchester; and Mrs. Mel Aerni, Columbus. Miss Rhonda Schoenfield of Malcolm, will be the flower girl, and lighting the chancel candles will be Miss Joyce Novak, Pleasant Dale, and Miss Deane Novak, Dorchester.

David Hansen of Friend, will serve as best man, and the groomsmen will be Charles Hansen, Exeter; Darryl Novak, Milford; and Norman Hansen, Lincoln. Seating the guests wil be Kenneth Andelt, Malcolm; John Striggow, Exeter; and Gary Kemper, Crete; and the ringbearer will be Bradley Andelt, Malcolm.

A graduate of the Lincoln School of Commerce, Miss Novak has been careering in Lincoln. Her fiance received his degree from Kearney State College and is a member of the faculty of the Ravenna Schools.

For her wedding on Saturday, July 19, Miss Leanne Beers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Beers, is announcing the members of her bridal party.

Miss Beers, who will become the bride of Michael Edwards at a 4 o'clock service to be solemnized at Westminster Presbyteran Church, has named Miss Karen Gross as her maid of honor, and her matron of honor will be Mrs. James Heller of Bellevue.

The bridesmaids will be Miss Ann Johnson, Miss Brenda Bloedorn, and her fiance's sisters, Miss Debbie Edwards and Miss Susie Edwards.

Clayton Miller will serve Mr. Edwards as best man, and the groomsmen will include Joe Voboril of Wahoo, James Steinman, Madison, Wis., Dick Osborne, Houston Tex., Scott Newkirk and Tom Edwards.

Entertaining in courtesy to their son and Miss Beers on Friday evening, Mr. and Mr. John W. Edwards will be host and hostess at dinner at the Lincoln Country Club.

Included among the recent bridal courtesies for Miss Beers was the miscellaneous shower held Wednesday evening, July 2, at the home of Mrs. Bill Koch. Co-hostess for the party was Miss Candy Legg, and the guests included members of the bride-elect's Job's Daughters group.

July bride-elect, Miss Kimberly Conover, will be the guest of honor on Thursday evening when Mrs. Fred Reddick, Mrs. Harold Parker and Mrs. Rodney Engel will be hostesses at a prenuptial courtesy to be held at the home of Mrs. Parker. During the informal party, a miscellaneus shower will be presented to Miss Conover.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest W. Conover, the bride-to-be also was honored last Sunday afternoon at a courtesy given by Miss Karen Mackeprang and Mrs. James Tucker at the home of Mrs. Tucker. A kitchen and gadget shower was presented to the honored guest.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East

2 ♣	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥

Opening lead — four of diamonds.

Let's say you're East defending against four hearts reached on the bidding shown. West leads a diamond which you win with the ace, and you return a diamond which West wins with the king. Your partner continues with the jack and South ruffs.

Declarer leads a low heart to dummy's jack, and it is at this point that the outcome of the hand hangs in the balance.

If you win with the ace, declarer makes the contract; if you duck, he goes down.

Let's assume you take the jack with the ace, as most players would. If you return a diamond, declarer ruffs in dummy, draws trumps, and easily makes the rest of the tricks. If you return anything else, declarer again has no trouble making the rest of the tricks.

Now let's assume you duck the jack of hearts, as you should. What can declarer do now to bring home the contract?

Absolutely nothing. If he leads another trump, you win with the ace and fire another diamond at him. If he ruffs, he will have only one trump left to West's two and must evenutally go down one. If he discards on the fourth round of diamonds, you take the setting trick that much sooner.

How can you tell that ducking the jack of hearts is the right play? Well, you can't be 100% sure the duck will beat the contract, but all the evidence points that way.

The clue lies in the bidding. South is very unlikely to have six hearts because he would probably have rebid the suit at the first opportunity instead of raising his partner's clubs right away.

Once you credit South with only five hearts — which means that West started with four of them — you are certain to beat the contract by refusing to take dummy's jack.

Opposition To 'Coed Visitations' Reaffirmed By Board Of Regents

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents Tuesday reaffirmed its opposition to coed visitations in dormitories on a regular basis and offered to return deposits to students unhappy with the stand.

Regent Richard Herman of Omaha initiated the board action as a response to graduate students who had asked that the Regents reconsider their position on coed visitation.

Residents of graduate student housing in Benton and Fairfield Houses of Selleck Quadrangle had requested the right to have members of the opposite sex in dormitory rooms on an informal and regular basis.

Herman also directed that parents and students be notified of the board's reaffirmed statement and allowed two weeks to claim a refund on housing and registration deposit if desired.

He said "there may be a few unhappy students" who might withdraw as a result of the decision after reconsideration of coed visitation.

All of the Regents opposed the coed visitation request.

In other action Tuesday the Regents entered into a five-year lease and agreement with the State Fair Board to develop and use a nine-acre tract at the State Fairgrounds for student parking.

The fairgrounds parking lot located on the east side of 14th St. north of the National Guard Motor Pool, will be graded, surfaced with crushed rock, fenced and lighted as necessary by the university, under terms of the agree-

NU will use the parking facility during most of the year, but the Fair Board will use it during the State Fair and horse racing season.

NU expects to provide shuttle service for students parking in the lot, planned for 900-1,000 cars. Rental of the City Bus Lines by the hour may be used for the shuttle service at first, reported business manager Carl Donaldson.

Two new degrees were created for the NU College of Medicine by the Regents Tuesday.

A master of science in nursing degree, replacing the master of psychiatric nursing degree, was established and should "help meet the critical need for nursing instructors in the state," NU Medical Center president Dr. Cecil Wittson told the board.

A two-year associate degree was established in radiologic technology.

Tuition rates for credit programs in the NU Extention Division were raised $2 for each program in order to continue the self-supporting status of the classes.

The new tuition rates, per semester, are: high school correspondence study, $18 per course for Nebraska residents, $20 for non-residents; college correspondence study, $17 per Hour; evening classes, $17 per hour for residents, $18 for non-residents; field classes, $17 per hour.

The Regents also:

—Accepted Lincoln campuses' grants totaling $93,925 for instructional programs; $95,755 for research grants; $9,200 for fellowships; $76,534 for special programs; $156,591 for training; Medical Center grants of $26,440 for research; $7,500 for fellowships; $26,724 for special programs and $142,534 for training.

—Accepted a $89,100 grant from the National Science Foundation to develop an undergraduate course in the use of digital computers in the study of chemistry.

—Approved payment of $73,303 for liability insurance on the premises and operations of NU to Employers Mutual Insurance of Wausau Co., Wausua, Wis.

—Accepted bids of $65,925 from Natkin and Co. and $106,574 from Cochran-Long Co. for two phases of the Vine Street utility tunnel extension.

—Accepted bid of $64,274 from James J. Parks Asphalt Co. for resurfacing parking lots at the UNO campus.

—Reconsidered action on awarding contracts for laundry equipment to be used in the Omaha Medical Center. The board's previous action was rescinded and contracts were awarded to A. A. Horwath and Sons, who had protested the board's action, in the amount of $64,685 for four washer-extractors and to American Laundry Equipment Co. in the amount of $10,595 for drying and contitioning tumbler.

Regents Name Top Housing Chief

Ely Meyerson of Madison, Wis., Tuesday was named the new director of housing on the Lincoln campuses of the University of Nebraska by the Board of Regents.

Meyerson, who has served as assistant director of the division of residence halls at the University of Wisconsin for the past seven years, assumes the position Aug. 11. He replaces Edward Bryan who resigned to continue graduate study.

The new director, 35, is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He has served in housing positions at Michigan and the State University of New York.

The Regents appointed Theodore E. Pfeifer, former NU systems coordinator for student systems development. Pfeifer has been registrar at Loyola University in New Orleans, La., for the past two years.

In other personnel action Tuesday the Regents named Dr. Dean S. Ruggs, 46, chairman of the department of geography, succeeding Dr. Colbert Held who resigned to return to the U.S. Department of State.

Rugg has been a member of the NU faculty since 1964.

The Regents also appointed:

—Larry Long project director of the "Black Frontier" television grant.

—Thomas E. Harding assistant director of the School of Journalism in place of Jimmy D. Patten.

—Steven G. Cox, former director of counseling at Peru State College, director of testing and assistant professor of counseling and guidance at UNO.

Drug Smuggler Clever, But Not Clever Enough

Hamilton, Bermuda (AP) — Winifred Thomas, a Jamaican, pretended she was pregnant when she arrived here. But a sharp-eyed customs man found three pounds of marijuana in her girdle. Miss Thomas, a 27-year-old unmarried mother of six, said a man had forced her to become a drug smuggler.

Latex Painting Easier

Columbus, Ohio (UPI) — The use of latex enamel for indoor painting is easier and more efficient than other types of paint, according to Roger A. Miller, Ohio State University agricultural engineer.

Engineer Invents Attack 'Warner'

Pretoria, South Africa (AP) — A local electronics engineer claims to have invented a device that will give its wearer up to 72 hours warning of a heart attack. Johann Gous, 31, says his indicator, worn on the wrist, detects preliminary disturbances in the heartbeat pattern. pattern.

Swanson Leads Joint Land Banks

The Lincoln and Omaha Federal Land Bank Associations (FLBA) have merged and Burdette Swanson, manager of the Omaha association, will lead the merged Lincoln association.

Swanson's appointment came after J. D. (Don) Berkeybile, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association at Lincoln, retired after 31 years with the association.

Berkeybile has been with the association since 1937 and served as its manager since 1938. The Lincoln Federal Land Bank Association will hold a retirement dinner for him Sunday.

Swanson has been manager of the Omaha FLBA since 1962.

The new Lincoln FLBA has 1,025 members and more than $14 million in loans outstanding in Cass, Douglas Lancaster, Otoe, Sarpy and Saunders Counties. It is entirely owned by its borrower-members.

Casualmaker

100% NYLON JERSEY MACHINE WASHABLE NEVER NEEDS IRONING

Authentic Casualmaker—created with the unmistakable Sy Frankl touch in smooth and supple nylon jersey. Don't you love the look? The dropped torso atop the softly flared swing skirt—the print, boldly stated—and the back, zippered for quick-as-a-wink wearing. And it washes beautifully. Just dunk it in your automatic and leave the iron on the shelf.

Beer Strike Ends After Five Weeks

Milwaukee, Wis. (UPI) — This beer capital's five-week beer strike ended Tuesday when members of Local 9 of the United Brewery Workers union voted 3,566 to 428 for ratification of a new contract with Milwaukee breweries.

The 4,500 union members struck Miller, Schlitz and Pabst June 9, also halting production of Blatz, made by Pabst; Gettleman, a subsidiary of Miller, and Old Milwaukee, a product of Schlitz.

The new offer, calling for a 38-cents an hour wage increase the first year of a two-year pact and 37 cents the second, was approved in balloting at a membership meeting at Milwaukee County Stadium.

Also in the package were increased sickness and accident benefits, better pension program and reduction in the number of years of service to get six-and seven-week vacations among other things.

2 Die In Tribal Fight

Port Moresby, New Guinea (UPI) — Reports reaching Port Moresby said two men were killed and another seriously injured in a tribal fight over land in the western highlands on New Guinea. The reports said one of the men died with 15 arrows in his body and the injured man was hit with four arrows.

Denture Invention

For People with "Uppers" and "Lowers"

The nearest thing to having your own teeth is possible now with a plastic cream discovery that actually holds both "uppers" and "lowers" as never before possible.

It's a revolutionary discovery called FIXODENT, for daily home use. (U.S. Pat. #3,003,988) With FIXODENT many denture wearers now eat, speak, laugh, with little worry of dentures coming loose.

FIXODENT forms an elastic membrane that helps absorb the shock of biting and chewing—helps protect gums from bruising. You may bite harder, eat faster—enjoy apples, corn-on-the-cob.

FIXODENT may help you speak more clearly, be more at ease.

The special pencil-point dispenser lets you spot FIXODENT with precision . . . where needed! One application may last round the clock. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get easy-to-use FIXODENT Denture Adhesive Cream at all drug counters.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton. All other English victories I suspect were won on English beer.

The pub is the club. Your favorite pub is your "local."

It is brown foamy stuff—either "mild" or "bitter" Some mix it. 'Arf and 'arf.

Some of the most famous pubs are along the River Thames.

Playboy Dukes brought their popsies up here. Belted Earls belted noble brew in The Jolly Farmer and the George and Dragon.

☆ ☆ ☆

There is a beer called Courage. It did absolutely nothing for me. We are going up river on a rented cruiser. Three children. A Brownie leader.

We go through locks with all hands screaming!

"Back it up! I can't hold onto it!"

I was backing the engine. But small boats simply don't stop like a car. They keep right on going.

The lock keeper snatched the rope. He gave it a couple of turns around the cleat in the side of the lock. He grabbed the stern line and pulled us in.

"Close thing, that," he said wiping his forehead. "I expect you don't have many rivers in America."

☆ ☆ ☆

The Henley Regatta was on as we came through. Hundreds of boats were lined up along the river bank. On the porch of The Angel and the Little White Hart men in straw hats and blazers sat drinking Henley Strong Ale.

There was a parade of girls in the miniest miniskirts. ("Watch where you're going," said the Brownie leader. "You almost hit that boat.")

☆ ☆ ☆

We cruised at dead slow speed through the boat traffic. I said: "My first day on the Thames and I have to go right into a traffic jam."

The Brownie leader said: "Could we stop somewhere? I'd like to get my hair done."

I said: "Are you out of your ever-loving mind?"

She said: "I feel dowdy without my hair set. And here we are at the Royal Regatta."

☆ ☆ ☆

I said: "For the love of heaven get outside and grab a line. We're coming into another ruddy lock."

She said: "You don't have to scream. Those girls had their hair done."

"What girls?" I said. "Get on the end of a rope. You know I can't stop this thing."

She said: "The girls you were eyeing in the miniskirts."

I said: "That's an unfriendly thing to say. I was watching to see we didn't hit anything."

"You didn't look like you were going to hit them," she said.

"The line! The line!" I yelled. "Give it to the lock keeper!"

"Maybe he knows where there's a hairdresser," she said brightening up.

We lead a lively life on the river.

Astroflash Analyzes Joe

Norfolk — The Astrodome in Houston revolutionized the sports world a few years ago; now a thing called Astroflash in New York's Grand Central Station may further revolutionize things.

The first day the IBM 360-25 computer, which gives character analyses and forecasts according to the stars, was installed, it zipped out horoscopes for 999 civilians and Flip Wilson.

On the second day, someone fed in the vital information on one of America's greatest characters without letting the mechanical genius know to whom the statistics belonged. For your information, that character was Joe Namath, the New York Jets quarterback.

What came from the computer was a 17-page report that indicated Namath could find true fulfillment as an interior decorator, hairdresser, magician or money handler.

Said the cybernetic seer to its unknown subject, "You feel fulfilled in an occupation in which you use your hands, especially those where your hands can improve and enhance an object."

A football evidently isn't that object as far as Astroflash is concerned. It listed only the professions stated above.

Faithful To Teammates

A clue to the end of the Namath mystery may have been forecast in the next words the computer spit out.

"You cooperate well with a team and remain faithful to it, though you may have your own way of organizing the job," the computer allowed. "You love to juggle with ideas, and here an inherent danger is to make a wrong assumption to start with and then build an entire intellectual argument based on this false premise.

"Because of your attitude toward money and possessions, you will be a winner, sometimes bitterly so . . . You may not attain security without a fight, or even without litigation . . . You have great trouble extricating yourself from associates . . . You do not really know the meaning of leisure and at retirement time may find yourself in hot water."

On matters of the heart, Astroflash has some advice for this particular Gemini (with Vigro ascendant) that ought to freeze Joe's eyes in mid-orbit next time he tries to watch a pretty girl bounce by.

"There is a real danger," the computer thinks, "of retreating into yourself where you can be content with imaginary loves. Such an attitude can produce bachelorhood. This would be very bad for you.

"You must develop your capacity for devotion in the partnership that you form . . . You will only fully come into your own if your marriage produces the children so necessary to your balance."

Advice To Namath

Astrologers, both mortal and metal, don't claim to predict the future. All they do is indicate favorable and unfavorable periods for the future, and then stand back and let the subject decide whether to swing with the stars or against them.

Astroflash advised up until last Monday for our hero to "Beware of unleashing vital forces you might have trouble controlling . . . There is risk of shocks, friction and even serious conflicts . . . Your associates, your family and neighbors seem belligerent . . . Actually the source of friction is likely to lie buried deep within you."

Between Monday and Aug. 13: "These are particularly propitious days in which to remedy a difficult situation, off-load a burden, score off a sore point at issue." Maybe like a meeting with NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Between Aug. 13 and Sept. 11: "Success will be especially encouraged if your career is in some way connected with aesthetics, beauty, or the arts."

It might just take a machine to figure out the Joe Namaths of the world.

Out-State Golfer Now Has Title Shot

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Norfolk — The hiring of Charlie Borner by the North Platte school system could give out-state Nebraskans their first Nebraska Men's State Amateur golf king in 35 years.

No one but Lincoln and Omaha golfers has won the title since Jack Hoerner of Hastings did it in 1934, slipping in between the second and third crowns won by Rod Bliss Jr. of Omaha.

In fact Hoerner is the only non-Omaha-Lincoln winner in the 61-year history of the tournament that makes its 62nd annual appearance at the Norfolk Country Club here today through Saturday.

Borner broke a six-year domination of the tournament by Bob Astleford a year ago at Lincoln's Hillcrest Country Club and became the first non-Omaha winner in a decade.

CHARLIE BORNER

The last non-Omaha winner prior to Borner was Lincoln's Dick Spangler Jr. in the 1958 meet, also held at Hillcrest. It was Spangler's second straight state title and third overall.

When Borner won a year ago, he was a Lincolnite. Now he lists his residence as North Platte where he coaches the golf team.

If Borner can win again, he will be only the seventh golfer to win repeat titles, joining Sam Reynolds of Omaha, Johnny Goodman of Omaha, Bliss, Bob Fraser of Omaha, Spangler and Astleford.

Only Goodman, Bliss and Fraser won their back-to-back titles as their first and second triumphs. Reynolds put his fifth and sixth championships back-to-back; for Spangler it was his second and third titles and after Astleford won his third, he added five in a row to that third one.

If the out-staters are to have a true representative win, their chief hope would appear to be Norfolk native Jim Shade, a member of the Oklahoma State golf team or Fairbury's Frank Rose.

Shade led his Oklahoma State team through the first two rounds of the recent NCAA Championships at Colorado Springs, shooting 76-79 in winds that reached 60 miles per hour.

His familiarity with the course would be an advantage although most of the 115 contestants who will tee it up today have played the course in Monday's pro-am and in Tuesday's practice round.

But even with Borner, Rose and Shade representing the out-state segment as well as any trio in the history of the tourney, the big quantity of quality golfers still get their mail in Lincoln or Omaha.

BOB ASTLEFORD

You can start with eight-time champion Bob Astleford, who has been looking forward to this tournament with as much vigor as any he's played in, hoping to recapture the spotlight he held for so long and to atone for a disappointing 19th place finish a year ago.

Also coming out of Omaha as definite contenders are Bill Feehan, the former Iowa Masters champion, Dean Wilson Jr. and K. K. Compton, both past champions.

The top Lincoln threat is Matt Taber, the southpaw who earlier this summer won the state match play title with a finals victory over Rose.

Rose, a member of the Nebraska golf team, is devoting his summer to golf and picked up impressive credentials by winning the Grand Island Tournament of Champions over most of the names entered here.

METS CLOSE GAP ON CUBS

Weis' Three-Run Blast Gives NY 5-4 Triumph

. . . BRUINS LEADING BY 4½

From News Wires

The Mets and the Cubs have upstaged the Yankees and the Red Sox, who once tossed the baseball world into a dither of excitement whenever they met head-on in a series. More often than not, a pnnant was at stake. So stands were packed as the customers watched in rapturous attention at the high drama being unfolded before them.

But no stands were packed at Yankee Stadium Tuesday as the Bostonians and the defused Bombers split a doubleheader, Boston winning the first game, 7-6, and the Yanks, behind the pitching of former University of Nebraska hurler Stan Bahnsen, taking the second, 4-1, to open a four-game set.

Nor was concentration on the action that intense because many ears were bent to transistor radios for news of the Metsies in Chicago where light hitting Al Weis' three-run homer in the fourth inning led the Mets to a 5-4 victory over the Cubs and lifted them to within 4½ games of the National League East leaders before 38,608 fans.

The homer was the first of the season for Weis, who hit five as a Lincoln Chief in 1960 and who now has five in eight major league seasons spanning 663 games. It came with two outs and followed singles by Art Shamsky and Ed Kranepool.

In other American League action, Washington stopped Detroit, 7-3 and Baltimore topped Detroit, 5-1. Kansas City was at California and Oakland at Seattle while the Chicago-Minnesota game was rained out.

San Francisco failed to gain on the Atlanta Braves and Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League's west, losing to San Diego, 10-3, while first place LA was falling to Houston, 10-7, and second place Atlanta was splitting a doubleheader with Cincinnati, winning the first, 9-8, and losing the nightcap, 10-4.

St. Louis defeated Philadelphia, 8-2, and Pittsburgh dumped Montreal, 9-3, in the only other NL games.

Weis also singled and scored the Mets' first run in the third after Tommie Agee tripled. Ken Boswell slugged his third homer in the fifth.

After Weis and Agee had put the Mets ahead, the Cubs tied it in the bottom of the third when Jim Qualls singled, moved to second on a sacrifice, stole third and scored on a sacrifice fly by Don Kessinger.

The Cubs picked up an unearned run in the sixth. Ron Santo singled and came all the way home when Ernie Banks' single went through Agee for an error.

Gary Gentry, 9-7, was sailing along with a 5-2 lead until there were two outs in the eighth. He then was knocked out with consecutive homers by Billy Williams, No. 10 and Santo, No. 19. Ron Taylor finished up for the Mets.

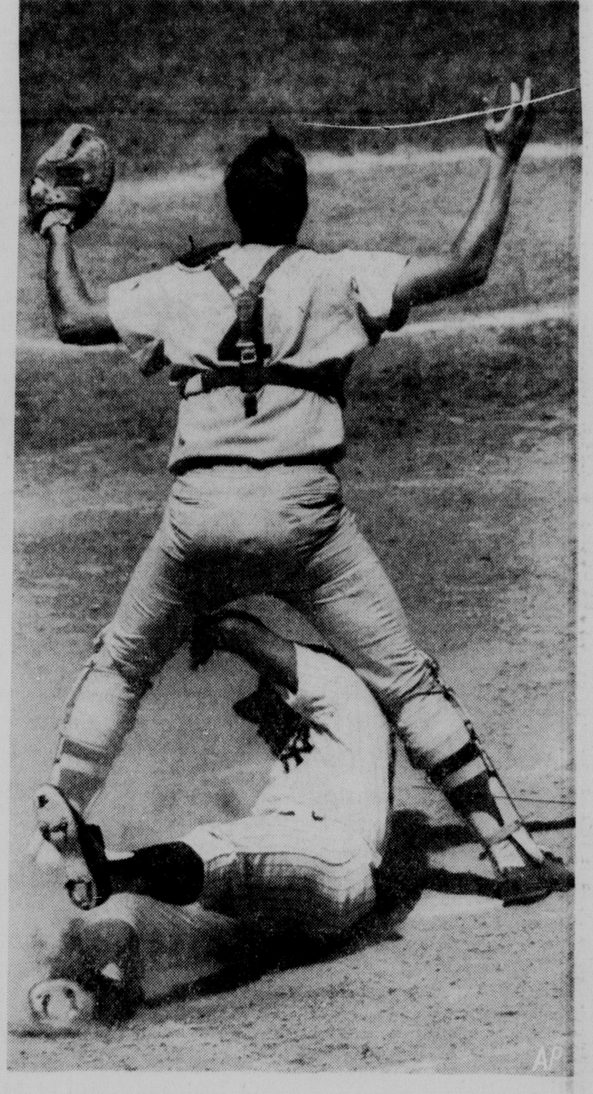
Bahnsen outpitched Sonny Siebert who pitched perfect baseball for five innings.

Then the Yankees broke through in the sixth. Singles by Ron Woods and Gene Michaels followed by Horace Clark's sacrifice fly accounted for one run in the sixth.

Three more runs in the eighth off reliever Lee Stange broke the game open. Wood and Michaels again singled, Clarke tripled and Jerry Kennedy singled. Bill Lee finally got the Yankees out when Bill Robinson lines into a double play.

Bahnsen lost his shutout when Joe Lahoud homered with one out in the ninth.

The Yankees left 15 men stranded in the first game and had the tying run thrown out at the plate in the ninth.



LEGGING IT HOME . . . Yankee second baseman Horace Clarke slides home safely through the legs of Boston catcher Tom Satriano. Clarke scored all the way from first on Jerry Kenney's double.

Priscilla Says Boys Can Keep Riding Business

Heavens to eBtsy! I don't know when your poor old Aunt Priscilla's seen two jockeys take a harder tumble than Barry Doupnik and Marvin Coleman did Tuesday at the Fairgrounds.

Priscilla

I just hope no serious damage results from their bumps and bruises.

As far as I'm concerned, the boys can keep this riding business for themselves.

My Tuesday selections faltered again. Fancy Lark, who I bet to win, finished fourth in the fifth race, and old Stick Shift, my other $2 win choice, missed by a length and a half in the seventh.

With my $100 spree fund down to $91.40, I'll try $2 win tickets on Ruddy Greek in the first and Get Atom in the fifth.

Star Selector Is Warming Up

For the second straight day Tuesday The Star Selector picked three winners on the Fairgrounds racing card.

The Tuesday Star winners were Honey Creek Moon ($7.80) in the third race, Prince Watus ($17.60) in the sixth, and Battle Trouble ($4.80) in the seventh.

The Star also had three winners on Saturday's nine-race card.

NCAA Cites Lincolnite Wright

Gregg Wright, a former state high school backstroke champion from Southeast, has capped a brilliant academic and athletic career at the California Institute of Technology by being awarded a $1,000 postgraduate scholarship by the NCAA.

Wright

Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Flavel A. Wright of 2510 So. 24th St., starred in both swimming and water polo at Caltech and will enter Case Western Medical School in Cleveland next fall.

Gregg set six Caltech freshman swim marks in the 200 and 500-yard freestyle, the 100 and 200-yard backstroke and the 200 and 400-yard individual medley.

He currently holds varsity records in the 100 and 200-yard freestyle. He was also a member of record-setting 400 and 800-yard freestyle and 400-yard medley relay teams.

Wright won four letters in swimming and three in water polo, plus three trophies including the school's 1969 Outstanding Athlete Award.

Gregg was named to the NAIA all-American swimming team in '68 and '69 and to the NCAA college division squad in 1967. He was chosen on the SCIAC (Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference) water polo team in 1968.

A tutor for underprivileged children in a ghetto school for a year, Gregg is currently teaching math and science in the Pasadena, Calif. schools

Leo Durocher Defends Schoendienst's Picks

By Associated Press

Manager Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs Tuesday quickly went to the defense of manager Red Schoendienst of St. Louis, who will manage the National League team in next Tuesday's All-Star-game.

Schoendienst, who announced his pitching selections Tuesday, didnot select a single hurler from the leaders of the National League East.

Ron Santo, the Cubs' volatile captain, became a colunist for the Chicago Daily News Tuesday and his first story was a blast at Schoendienst for failing to place Cub righthander Ferguson Jenkins on the squad.

The righties, with their records going into Tuesday's games: Larry Dierker of Houston (12-6), Bob Gibson of St. Louis (11-7), Juan Marichal of San Francisco (11-3), Phil Niekro of Atlanta (14-7), Tom Seaver of New York (14-4)and Bill Singer of Los Angeles (12-7).

The southpaws are Steve Carlton of St. Louis (11-5), Grant Jackson of Philadelphia (9-8) and Jerry Koosman of New York (7-5).

Santo said, "I can't understand it. We didn't get into first place on hitting alone. That would be like a football team without a line."

Jenkins was philosophical about being slighted. "It would have been a great honor. But it's water under the bridge now. At least I'll get three days of fishing."

Most of the other Cub players called it "ridiculous" and "preposterous" that Jenkins wasn't selected despite a 12-6 record with a 2.59 earned run average and a league leading total of 156 strikeouts.

"Hold on a minute," hollered Durocher as a group of writers discussed the possible reasons why Jenkins wasn't picked.

Globe Nine Pulls Up In Elks Loop

Globe Laundry pulled into third place in the Lincoln Elks League Tuesday night with a 7-2 victory over The Executive Club.

The victory evened Globe's mark at 3-3 and places the Launderers behind Security-Mutual (7-1) and Executive Club 4-3) in the battle for the three league playoff spots. The Elks regular season ends Friday.

Globe clinched the game with a five-run burst in the fifth which was keyed by Rex Mercer's two-run double and Rich Kahler's RBI single. Cliff Young hit a two-run homer in the fourth and Paul Hendricks pitched a six-hitter for the winners.

King-Lee Combo Produces Three Victories

By KENT SAVERY
Star Sports Writer

Jockey Dave King and owner-trainer R. L. Lee of Silver Creek were having just about everything their own way at the State Fairgrounds thoroughbred races Tuesday.

In fact as a team it looked like they just might go unbeaten for the day — that is until they ran up against Fred Ecoffey and the swift Battle Trouble in the seventh race.

The King-Lee combo had a string of three winners giing into the seventh and in the seventh they were again figured to be in contention with the highly regarded Stick Shift.

But Stick Shift, co-owner of the Fairgrounds track record of 1:05 3-5 for five and one-half furlongs, was not up to his 1966 record form and ran second to the 6-5 favorite Battle Trouble.

Battle Trouble moved to an early lead in the five and one-half furlong sprint as Stick Shift raced well off the pace. However, by the time they reached the far turn Stick Shift was moving well and it appeared the seven-year-old son of Bless Me-Miss Tulsa might overhaul the frontrunner in the stretch.

It wasn't to happen, however, as Battle Trouble held on to win by a length and a half in a time of 1:08 over the fast track. Cadillac Red, at 21-1, took the show with apprentice jockey Roy Ray in the irons.

Battle Trouble, the six-year-old son of War Trouble and Blue Lustre, is owned by Omahans Howard Agee and William Varner and returned $4.80, $2.60 and $2.20 in the co-featuured seventh, the $1,500 Past Presidents Purse.

Battle Trouble ended a King-Lee string of winners that started with Deberine in the first race and included Handy Boy in the fourth and the surprising Prince Watus, who upset even-odds favorite Solarswirl in the co-featured sixth race.

Prince Watus came from off the pace to overhaul Solarswhirl in the stretch and win the six-furlong chase in 1:15 1-5. Prince Watus, owned by C. B. Stensaas and trained by Lee, returned a hefty $17.60, $5.40, and $3 for his one-length victory in the three-year-old allowance race. Roving Tigress was third behind Solarswhirl.

Lee and Ed Sundberg of Audubon, Iowa, are co-owners of Deberine, Handy Boy and Stick Shift.

Tuesday's racing was marred by a spectacular spill in the first race, which Deberine won. The pileup, involving Shannon's Shamrock and Kentucky Brother, sent both horses' jockeys to Lincoln General Hospital.

Barry Doupnik (rider of Shannon's Shamrock) and Marvin Coleman (Kentucky Brother) appear not to have suffered serious injuries, according to hospital authorities, however they will probably remain hospitalized for two or three days for observation.

A hospital spokesman said both jockeys were badly shaken up, bruised and complaining of sore backs.

The accident apparently was caused by Shannon's Shamrock catching one of Persistent Count's heels and falling in the path of Kentucky Brother. Both horses went down with Kentucky Brother doing a somersault.

Jets' Lammons Sides With Joe, Walks Out

. . . ROZELLE TO MEET WITH TEAM

Hempstead, N.Y. (AP) — Pete Lammons, tight end of the New York Jets, walked out of the training camp at Hofstra University Tuesday in sympathy with Joe Namath's position.

Lammons authorized the Jets to announce he had left "to clear up business details." Later, he told newsmen: "The business revolves around Namath and his playing. If Joe plays, I will play."

Coach Weeb Ewbank, who also is general manager of the Jets, had no immediate comment on Lammons' move.

Lammons had been one of the players who said he wouldn't play if Namath didn't. However, he reported to camp Sunday and had been on the scene until Tuesday morning. There had been reports that he hoped to renegotiate the second and final year of his current two-year contract. It appeared that Lammons might be subject to a fine for leaving camp.

Coach Ewbank put the world champs to a two-a-day schedule while waiting for Namath to make contact and 14 other players to sign contracts.

Namath, unpredictable hero of the Super Bowl champions, remained the No. 1 topic of camp conversation following Monday night's revelation that pro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle will meet with the Jet players to discuss the Namath case.

No firm date had been set for the meeting with Rozelle and there were no firm reports of Namath's plans but the strong possibility existed that he might reveal his intentions later in the day, either by phone or in persons.

But, at the same time, it developed that Namath wasn't Ewbank's only problem.

Among the 14 players still unsigned are 10 starters from the team that stung the Baltimore Colts in the Super Bowl plus Babe Parilli, the only experienced quarterback in camp and the man, who in Namath's absence, is the No. 1 signal-caller.

While the number of players unsigned is not unusual, it is being interpreted that way by some partly as an expression of dissatisfaction in the role the Jets management has played in the Namath case.

Namath, who announced his retirement rather than sell his interest in a restaurant as ordered by Rozelle, last contacted the Jets Sunday afternoon asking for permission to report to camp later in the week.

A friend of Namath said he had to fly to Miami to take care of some business "then would get back" to Ewbank either Tuesday night or Wednesday. Whether that meant by phone or at camp remained a question.

Namath, of course, remained subject to suspension by Rozelle should he return and either renounce his retirement or actually suit up for a drill.

Witt's Subdues Aamco Club, 2-1

Jack Flaherty led off the ninth inning with a triple and scored on a wild pitch Tuesday night to give Ken Witt's Insurance a 2-1 victory over Aamco in American Legion action at Sherman Field.

Winning hurler Gary Walker struck out 13 and losing pitcher Jim Starita 12 in the mound duel. Witt's won the last game between the two clubs, 2-0, so is turning the tables after the Aamco-Northeast team downed them twice in high school play this spring.

Terry Danek and Ron Anderson banged out two hits apiece to lead the Havelock Merchants to an 8-2 victory over the Lincoln Merchants in a midget opener.

Gerry's Pounds Bellevue, 10-4

Bellevue — Gerry's Sports of Lincoln kept their top spot in the Eastern Division of the Cornhusker Legion League by pounding Bellevue 10-4 Tuesday night.

Ken Johnson belted a three-run homer in the 5th for Gerry's and Mike Brumm and Mike Shea added three hits apiece to the winners' 14-hit attack.

Gerry's, now 9-2 in division play, visits Beatrice for a division tussle tonight.

Shrine Profiles

DAN ANDERSON

A three-year letterman in football, basketball and track, Fremont High's Dan Anderson likes the gridiron sport the best of all and is looking forward to performing for the North squad in the upcoming Shrine Bowl all-star football game, Aug. 23.

Anderson

Named all-state in football, Dan was all-league on both offense and defense in the tough Big 10 Conference.

Anderson was co-captain of the Fremont eleven and the 6-1, 205-pounder likes the going rugged.

He is one of four members of the unbeaten Fremont squad who will be performing for coach Hank Amend's Yankee squad. Anderson will wear No. 57 in the Shrine Bowl game.

JOHN O'CONNELL

Many of the players who will perform in the Shrine Bowl all-star football game Aug. 23 were standouts in three sports.

But Sidney's John O'Connell didn't stop there. He was not only one of the best in football, basketball and track, but along with football lists baseball as his favorite sport. sport.

O'Connell

If that weren't enough, the 6-2, 180-pounder says hunting and fishing are his hobbies.

The president of the Sidney High letterman's club his senior year, he hopes to become a teacher and coach.

O'Connell will wear No. 25 when he plays for the North squad in the Shrine Bowl

Kearney's Osentowski Signs Twins' Contract

Kearney State College baseball standout, Rich Osentowski, signed with the Minnesota Twins Monday and reports immediately to Orlando in the Class A Florida State League.

Osentowski, a three-time NAIA all-American and 1969 Lincoln Sunday Journal and Star State College Athlete of the year, finished fifth in the nation in hitting this year with a .479 average.

Deer Permit Allotment Is Unfilled

More than half of Nebraska's deer permits for the 1969 firearm season have been sold, but some 14,000 still were unclaimed as of Monday afternoon, July 14, according to the Game Commission.

The remaining 14,000 permits are all in 13 unfilled management units in the central and western part of the state. Five units in eastern Nebraska, Blue, Wahoo, Nemaha, Elkhorn, and DeSoto, were filled early through a public drawing on June 20.

Units with permits remaining are Buffalo, 496; Calamus, 1,178; Frenchman, 1,161; Keya Paha, 805; Loup East, 369; Loup West, 357; Missouri, 789; Pine Ridge, 2,971; Plains, 1,269; Platte, 1,673; Republican, 580; Sand Hills, 1,525; and Upper Platte, 1,291. Total number of permits authorized by the Commission for the 1969 season was 32,300.

Permits for the filled deer units, as well as all antelope permits, have been mailed, the Commission announced. Substantial numbers of permits in the Buffalo, Calamus, Frenchman, Keya Paha, Loup East, Loup West, and Missouri units have also been sent out, and work will begin soon on mailings in other units. Permits for the DeSoto Unit will not be mailed out until waterfowl seasons are set. Hunting in that unit opens the first Saturday following the close of waterfowl gunning, and the Commission will not release deer permits for that area until these dates are established.

Application forms and details on the 1969 deer season are available from permit vendors throughout the state, most county clerks, conservation officers, and Game Commission officers.

Women's Links Entries Accepted

Applications are being accepted for the Women's and Junior Girls' City Golf Tournament to be held July 21-25. Woman entries must pay a fee of $10 and girls $3 to compete in the four-day tourney which will consist of 18 holes of play each day.

The Junior Girls' tourney will be run concurrently with the Women's tourney and any girl may participate as long as she does not reach her 18th birthday by July 21.

The tourney will be medal play only over Holmes, the Lincoln Country Club, Pioneers, and Hillcrest Country Club and tickets may be purchased at Holmes for the event.

Bob's Softballers Continue Upsets

Bob's Tavern, currently the hottest AAA softball team in the city, won its second key game in a week Monday night by dumping Roberts-Skyline, 3-2 in 10 innings at Ballard Field.

The Spigot took its third straight, also in 10 innings Monday, with a 5-4 victory over the Tack Room Bar to move into a tie for fourth place. Kenny Grosenbach hurled the victory despite being touched for a pair of homers.

Variety Spices Anglers' Week

Variety was the word among the state's top fishermen the past week, providing everything from a state bow-and-arrow record for paddlefish to an outstanding haul of brown trout.

Marlin Smith of Crofton set the new standard for paddlefish last Friday, with a 29-pound, 8-ounce whopper taken at the Gavins Point Dam tailwaters. Smith's effort erases the 23-pound, 12-ounce mark held by Allen Leader, also of Crofton.

Harold McGuire of Johnstown was the envy of the state's trout fishermen last week, taking 6 lunker browns from the Snake River in Cherry County.

Top fishing waters across the state, by district, include:

SOUTHEAST

Blue River (Hastings and York areas) — catfish up to 2 pounds on chicken liver, worms, minnows, and prepared bait; (Fairbury area) — catfish up to 6 pounds on minnows; Sandpits (Hall County) — bass from 1 to 3 pounds hitting artificials;

Salt Valley Lakes: Pawnee (Emerald) — catfish from 1½ to 4 pounds on night crawlers, minnows, and crawdads; bluegill on worms; Conestoga (Denton) — crappie up to 8 inches on minnows; Wagon Train (Hickman) — bullhead up to 10 inches on worms; Bluestem (Sprague) — catfish from 1 to 5 pounds on night crawlers and minnows.

SOUTHWEST

Red Willow Reservoir (McCook) — catfish from 2 to 7 pounds taking salamanders and cut bluegill; largemouth bass up to 4 pounds on artificial worms;

Medicine Creek Reservoir (Cambridge) — white bass 10 to 12 inches; walleye 2 to 3 pounds on trolled artificials;

Johnson Lake (Lexington) — walleye up to 8½ pounds trolling;

Enders Reservoir — walleye from 2 to 5 pounds and white bass up to 12 inches trolling artificials; catfish from 2 to 4 pounds taking prepared bait and night crawlers;

Swanson Reservoir (Trenton) — white bass from 10 to 12 inches and walleye up to 5 pounds, both striking trolled artificials; catfish up to 4 pounds hitting prepared bait and night crawlers;

Sutherland Reservoir — white bass up to 14 inches; catfish up to 4 pounds at the inlet;

Lake Maloney (North Platte) — catfish 2 to 4 pounds at the inlet on cut or prepared bait; some white bass 12 to 14 inches.

PANHANDLE

Lake McConaughy (Otter Creek and Omaha Beach areas) — walleye averaging 3 pounds, with some up to 7½ pounds; white bass up to 1½ pounds on spinners and worms; rainbow trout up to 8 pounds off face of dam on trolled artificials;

Walgren Lake — bullheads around 8 inches on worms;

Whitney Lake — norther pike around 25 inches on minnows and artificials; white bass on artificials; perch on worms.

SAND HILLS

Merritt Reservoir (Valentine) — walleye on trolled artificials;

Loup River (most areas) — catfish.

NORTHEAST

Grove Lake (Royal) — bullhead averaging 1 pound on worms; crappie averaging 8 inches on minnows;

Missouri River (Niobrara and Santee areas) — catfish from 1 to 3 pounds on shrimp and minnows; (Decatur to Fort Calhoun) — catfish up to 3 pounds with crawdads on setlines;

$5.3 MILLION SOUGHT . . .

County Budget Hearing Slated

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday set July 30 for public hearing on the proposed 1969-70 fiscal year budget, $5,301,886 of which would have to be raised by taxes if all requests are granted.

The board Tuesday was presented only a portion of the total budget which will be ready by the end of the week, according to County Clerk Carl Hartman who compiles the budget for the county board for its consideration.

The partial budget showed that individual county officials are requesting $2.4 million to operate their offices, which is a 14% increase over the $2,163,454 requested for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

Total Up 13%

According to Hartman, the total amount to be raised by taxes is slightly more than 13% more than the $4,602,566 needed last year in tax money had all requests been granted.

The completed budget will show proposed expenditures in the county miscellaneous fund that totaled $1.3 million last year, a listing of sources of revenue other than local taxes, and expenditures and revenues for roads and bridges.

The largest departmental increase request was submitted by Sheriff Merle Karnopp whose proposed budget request for the 1969-70 fiscal year is $309,825 as compared with $212,500 last year.

More Deputies

Karnopp, who was out of town, was not available for comment; but Chief Deputy Del Zieman said the increase was primarily to cover the costs of hiring five additional deputies and the cost of trading in four patrol cars for five new ones.

He said the five patrol cars have already been purchased but funds would be taken from the new budget. The new deputies would man the patrol cars for expanded patrol of the county at night and bring the total number of deputies to 26, Zieman said.

Most other increases in office requests were for salaries, new equipment and general operating cost increases.

District Court

The second highest budget increase submitted was that of the clerk of the district court with a request of $140,165, as compared with $87,900 requested last year and $83,190 actually spent.

The increase includes $94,155 for salaries, an increase of $23,328 over last year, $1,896 for new equipment and furniture and $12,000 for data processing.

Shown below is the breakdown of departmental requests as compared with 1968-69 fiscal year request, adopted budget and amount actually spent:

Office	1969-70 Request	1968-69 Request	1968-69 Budget	1968-69 Spent

Omaha Officers Not Charged With Shooting Berserk Man

Omaha (UPI) — No charges will be filed against two policemen involved in the shooting and wounding of Lawrence E. Sipperell, 21, of Omaha, Douglas County Atty. Donald L. Knowles said Tuesday.

The policemen are Gary Becerra and Robert Reibold.

July 8 Sipperell was wounded twice by 38-caliber bullets.

Knowles said there was insufficient evidence to sopport felony charges against the officers.

According to police Sipperell was shot after he went berserk, apparently after taking drugs, crashed in a neighbor's door and attacked officers with his hands. Becerra fired the shots.

Airliner Rented

Detroit (UPI) — Universal Airlines Co. has rented a 185-passenger jet airliner to World Airways Inc., for 100 transatlantic charter flights this year.

State Welfare Division To Move Office Sept. 1

The State Department of Public Welfare will move its offices about Sept. 1, into the old Municipal Building at 10th and R, Director Robert McManus said Tuesday.

McManus said the department is leasing the building for $12,000 a year under an agreement with the City of Lincoln until the new State Office Building is constructed.

Earlier this year, the department had considered office facilities at Lincoln Air Park West, but McManus said the downtown offices were selected as more convenient to employes and the general public.

The move will enable the department to consolidate its offices and 142 employes under one roof. The department is now housed in the State Capitol office, the Executive Building and the Lincoln Building.

McManus said the department will have ten parking spaces at the old Municipal Building for the general public and 50 spaces for employes at the old City Hall building two blocks away.

He said the lease agreement plus utilities for the old Municipal Building is comparable to the proposed $20,500 rental cost for Lincoln Air Park West's former administration building.

The old Municipal Building has 15,500 usuable square feet of office space plus adequate storage and utility space, he said.

"We feel the department will fit into the building fairly well, and also have the advantage of having all divisions close together."

Crews from Prison Industries will do some painting and office partitioning before the moving.

Ak-Sar-Ben Pays State Record Tax On Wager Handle

Omaha's Ak-Sar-Ben race track paid a record-breaking $1,443,791 pari-mutuel tax to the state this year, State Treasurer Wayne R. Swanson reported Tuesday.

Ak-Sar-Ben reported $37,094,776 was bet. The state colects a 4% tax on the handle after exempting the first $1 million.

Swanson said the state's tax take was up from $1,404,509 collected a year ago.

After taxes, the track retains 10% and returns 86% of the take to the bettors.

Sailor Recovers Consciousness To Cheer Mao

Tokyo (AP) — Communist China reports that an unconscious Chinese sailor with a hole in his head "as large as a hen's egg" recovered consciousness when a nurse placed a photograph of Mao Tse-tung in front of him. Then, said the New China News Agency, Yeh Chin-jung's lips trembled and he murmured: "Long live Chairman Mao."

Lincoln Officials Urged To Push For Platte Dam

By TOM EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln city officials were warned Tuesday that the city will likely have to find new sources for it's water supply between 1990 and 2020 if the Platte River Dam is not built.

Ed Lawson, project engineer with the Omaha District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, said the alternative sources would have to be found because "there will be a very little water flow during that time."

Lawson said the diminishing water flow along with agricultural nutrients run-off, will affect the quality of Lincoln's present water supply sources.

Flow Will Drop

He said that a Missouri Basin Inter-Agency study revealed that the flow will drop from the present average flow of 4,365 cubic feet per second to 1,730 during that period.

"There could be periods of zero flow," he said during an informational meeting, between the corps of engineers and city officials, sponsored by a citizens committee to promote the dam.

Lawson said that 1990-2020 will be a "critical period for getting water" unless the dam is built.

He warned city officials that any substantial opposition now to the $500 million dam will kill the project.

Necessity

"Public support is a necessity if the dam is to become a reality," the project engineer said.

Lawson added that the proposed dam represents a "now or never" situation for eastern Nebraska.

He said Lincoln could use the Missouri River as a possible source if the dam isn't built.

Dr. Mark Hammer, a University of Nebraska professor and chairman of the city's Water Advisory Board, said he has not seen any technical reports that support the view that Lincoln will have water problems in the future.

Taking a neutral position, Dr. Hammer said that no alternatives to building a dam have yet been studied.

'Only Alternative'

"The dam is not the only alternative if the river goes dry," he said.

He said that the reservoir also would have eutrophication problems.

City Council members questioned Lawson during the meeting about the city's future water sources should the dam be built.

Members said they want some assurance that the water will be equal to the quality and temperature of the water the city now gets from underground wells near Ashland.

Lawson said there is no way now that the corps of engineers can guarantee that the new water could be just as good.

New Sources

The Corps of Engineers must find the city new sources of water at no cost to the Lincoln taxpayers should the dam project flood the city's well fields.

The project engineer of the dam said that the city could oppose the dam project later on if suitable new sources cannot be found.

When asked by Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf to explain his "now or never" comment, Lawson said any delay would make a dam economically unfeasible for the government to build.

The Corps of Engineers is planning on a 1975 date to get work started on the project with a 1990 completion date.

Lawson said in an interview after the meeting that land acquisition would start several years before the construction work.

He said land costs would get out of hand after 1975-77.

Lawson pointed out that Omaha satellite communities are being built towards the area.

He remarked that it has been the Corps of Engineers experience that a built-in opposition will occur in the area where the dam project will be.

"This opposition of 7,000 persons can dominate any type of hearing and kill it (the dam) unless the rest in the area are educated about what the project means to the area and are present to support the project," Lawson said.

Boosting Dam

The Omaha and Lincoln Chambers of Commerce have joined to form a citizens committee to promote and educate the public about the dam.

A public hearing on the project will be held either in September or shortly thereafter.

John Fraker, executive vice president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, said that it is necessary to act quickly in promoting the project because of the short time before the hearing.

Paul Amen, a member of the Salt Valley Watershed District, said "the job now will be to get public acceptance."

Must Be Involved

"The whole eastern part of Nebraska must become involved in supporting the dam. Once we get public acceptance, then we have a chance for getting funds approved," Amen said.

Lawson said that Nebraska would have to pay for 5% of the project.

Informational meetings are also being planned in the near future to acquanit county officials and state legislators about the project.

A Midwest Research Institute report has stated that Eastern Nebraska will reap multi-million dollar benefits through economic and population growth if the dam is built.

Peace In Vietnam Gets Closer–Laird

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said Tuesday "we've certainly turned the corner" toward peace in Vietnam.

He indicated the Nixon administration is considering a possible change in the policy of maintaining heavy battlefield pressure on the enemy.

Laird's most optimistic assessment yet came as he sent Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to Vietnam to size up the significance of the current lull in fighting, the progress of the South Vietnamese forces toward greater combat responsibility, and to consult with U.S. commanders on strategy.

The defense secretary did not elaborate on why he thinks the corner has been turned.

May Be New Offensive

He avoided labeling the 25-day-old lull in fighting as significant, saying the North Vietnamese may launch new offensives and noting that there have been longer quiet periods in the past, some lasting a month.

Laird came under sharp questioning from war critics on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, particularly as to whether there has been any easing of U.S. battlefield pressure.

Some critics have contended that the United States is missing an opportunity to de-escalate the war and that "the aggressive patrolling" and other tactics by U.S. forces are causing needless casualties.

Questions Laird

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., one of the leading foes of current war policies, bore in on Laird repeatedly in an effort to pin the defense secretary down on whether there has been a change in the orders to maintain pressure.

Finally Laird told Gore "I would say that there has not," and he added, "the maximum pressure certainly is being kept up."

At another point, the Pentagon chief told the committee that "we are currently appraising the orders as far as the strategy in Vietnam is concerned."

Laird stressed that President Nixon has instructed him to relay to Gen. Creighton Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, orders to make reduction of casualties a primary responsibility.

Two Drug Firms Sued

Washington (AP) — The government charged two leading drug companies Tuesday with obtaining a patent for the antibiotic tetracycline by fraud, and sued them for $25 million in damages.

A three-count civil complaint, filed in U.S. District Court here, accused Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc., and American Cyanamid Co. of making false statements to the U.S. Patent Office.

Five other drug companies were named as defendants.

These five, Bristol-Myers Co., Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., Squibb Beach-Nut Inc., E. R. Squibb & Sons Inc., and the Upjohn Co. were charged with conspiring with Pfizer and Cyanamid to monopolize the manufacture and sale of tetracycline.

Top Seller

Tetracycline is the nation's largest selling broad spectrum antibiotic. Its sales exceed $100 million a year in dosage form at the manufacturer's level.

The government charged that Pfizer got the tetracycline patent on Jan. 11, 1955, by making false statements.

Cyanamid aided Pfizer, the suit alleged, by making similar misleading statements to assist in getting the patent.

In applying for the patent, the suit charged, both companies failed to disclose that tetracycline had been produced during the manufacture of aureomycin, another antibiotic, and could not, therefore, be patented.

Suppliers Limited

The government said the patent enabled Pfizer to limit the number of suppliers of tetracycline and that the government was damaged by having to pay noncompetitive prices for the drug.

The government, in its capacity as grantor of the patents, asked the court to cancel the tetracycline patent to Pfizer and to bar the firm from collecting royalties under it.

Under the arrangement, the government said the manufacture of tetracycline was confined to Pfizer, Cyanamid and Bristol-Myers.

Nebraska National Guard Inspected By Gov. Tiemann

Camp Ripley, Minn. (AP) — Nebraska Gov. Norbert Tiemann wound up an inspection of Nebraska National Guard units in training here Tuesday and headed back to Nebraska.

Although he stuck to his bright blue cap, designating him an Admiral in the mythical Nebraska Navy, Tiemann changed from civilian clothes to army fatigues for his inspection tour as commander in chief of the Nebraska National Guard.

Accompanied by Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch, adjutant general of Nebraska, Tiemann arrived in Brainerd, Minn., late Monday and flew by helicopter to the 67th Brigade command post in heavily wooded area about 16 miles north of the main cantonment area.

The Governor was briefed on the Brigade's plans for the remainder of the two-week training period and then changed into fatigues and began his helicopter tour, visiting the 1st Battalion; 168th Artillery, and the 1st Batallion, 195th Armor.

Tuesday morning before he returned to Nebraska, Tiemann breakfasted with Company A of the 67th Support Battalion, Omaha, and visited the Finance, Postal and Adjutant General sections and the brigade supply office and ration breakdown sections operated by C Company, York.

Back in the field he inspected Fremont's Troop E, 167th Cavalry; and the 2nd Battalion, 134th Infantry.

Possible Weapon Restriction 'Disappoints' Omaha Police

Omaha (AP) — Omaha Police Chief Richard Andersen said Tuesday he has had no direct indications from any police officers that they are considering a mass resignation.

Andersen's comment followed reports that about 40 policemen had visited the office of City Finance Director Edwin Hewitt seeking information about the amounts in their pension funds. Hewitt said the officers came in Tuesday in "twos and threes."

City Personnel Director Ernest Howard said about 25 policemen had asked to check their personnel records. According to Howard, some of the officers said they were consdiering resigning because of possible restrictions on police weapons.

Howard said the officers say they "were disappointed and unhappy" about comments on possible weapons restrictions attributed to Mayor Eugene Leahy.

Leahy said some of the comments had been misinterpreted and that especially did not call for removing shotguns from police cruiser cars.

Kearney Driver Escapes; Train Demolishes Car

Kearney (AP) — Jerald Chipps of Kearney escaped serious injury near here Tuesday as his car was demolished by a Union Pacific freight train.

The State Patrol said Chipps was forced to jump from his 1969 auto when it stalled on a rail crossing about four miles west of here.

The wreckage from the car was strewn some 300 feet, the patrol said.

Chipps was taken to a Kearney hospital for treatment of a possible back injury suffered when he jumped.

Stock Mart Slips To New 1969 Low

New York (AP) — The stock market slipped to another new low for the year Tuesday, although bargain buying was credited with cushioning the decline by helping the market trim sharp early losses.

"The market's recent decline has been of such velocity," an analyst said, "that it remains in an extremely oversold condition — a condition the bargain hunters find very tempting."

The Dow Jones industrial average tumbled 9.11 points Monday and it continued to decline sharply early Tuesday, losing more than six points by 11:30 a.m. EDT. But it turned after that and began reducing its losses.

At the close, the Dow was off 2.01 at 841.13, a new low for the year and the lowest it had closed since the 840.67 of March 29, 1968. The DJI's previous closing low for 1969 was set Monday.

Natomas was the most-active issue on the New York Stock Exchange as 13 of the 20-most-active declined, six advanced, and one was unchanged.

Declines took an early lead over advances and held onto it, although the margin was narrowed in later trading. Of 1,561 issues traded, 940 declined, and 405 advanced.

There were no new highs for the year — the first time this has happened since Oct. 10, 1966 — and 429 new lows. An analyst said the lack of new highs "shows the market has had a major slump. It demonstrates that this has been largely a one-way market."

Volume improved as 11.11 million shares were traded, compared with 8.30 million Monday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 1.0 to 298.7 — a new 1969 low — with industrials off 1.2, rails off 1.1, and utilities up .1.

Steels were mixed, with Republic Steel and U.S. Steel up fractions, Jones & Laughlin was off ½ at 24⅞. Motors also were mixed. Chrysler and Ford were up fractions, American Motors and General Motors dipped fractions.

Aircrafts were mostly lower. Electronics generally were higher.

Among computer issues IBM gained 2 to 323½. Control Data was up 3⅜ at 144.

Prices were mostly lower on the American Stock Exchange, with the Amex index off 15 cents at $26.88. Of 1,022 issues traded, 608 declined and 248 advanced.

Volume came to 4.52 million shares, compared with 3.55 million Monday.

Services Held For Former CB&Q Chief

Services for Samuel L. Fee, retired Burlington Railroad vice president of operations, were held Monday in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Mr. Fee, 79, a former Lincoln resident, died Friday in Fort Lauderdale.

A native of Knoxville, Iowa, Mr. Fee began his career with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad in 1905 as a station helper.

In 1915, he represented the railroad at the San Francisco Exposition.

From 1918 until 1926, Mr. Fee was superintendent of terminals at St. Louis. He was superintendent from 1927 to 1936 at several towns including Centerville, Iowa; Alliance, La Crosse, Wis.,-Omaha-Lincoln and Wymore.

In 1936 Mr. Fee was appointed general superintendent at Lincoln and three years later was appointed to a similar position at Galesburg, Ill.

From 1940 to 1949 he was general manager of lines west at Omaha.

Mr. Fee was appointed vice president of operations in 1949 and served in the capacity until his retirement Sept. 1, 1959. During that time he lived in Chicago, where Burlington's headquarters are located.

After his retirement, Mr. and Mrs. Fee went on a world tour and then moved to Fort Lauderdale.

Mr. Fee is survived by his wife, Frances Jeanette Hansmeyer.

State Gets Care Funds

State Welfare Director Robert McManus reported Tuesday receipt of an initial federal allocation of $24,800 to establish day care centers in conjunction with the state's work incentive program.

Under LB514 the State Welfare Department is authorized to participate in work incentive and training programs for families on public assistance.

McManus said the federal funds, matched on a 75-25 ratio with state money, would be used to provide day care for children while their mothers are employed in work incentive or job training programs.

Official On Trial

Brazzaville, Congo (UPI) — Former interior minister Felix Mouzabakany went on trial on a variety of political charges, including conspiracy to overthrow the government. Mouzabakany and 18 others were accused of sympathizing with antigovernment activities.

Youth Injured In Car-Cycle Crash

Donald L. Mills, 18, of Rt. 3, Lincoln underwent surgery at Bryan Hospital Tuesday afternoon following an auto-motor-cycle accident at 29th & O, according to police.

The motorcycle driven by Mills, reportedly eastbound on O, was in collision with an automobile northbound on 29th which was driven by Charles J. Emry, 50, of Panama, police said.

D.R. Skinner Dies; Headed Stephenson's

Services for Delano R. Skinner, chairman of the board of Stephenson School Supply Co., will be held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at Stine and McClure Mortuary in Kansas City, Mo.

Mr. Skinner, a resident of Kansas City, died Monday at the age of 64.

A native of Ashland, Mr. Skinner attended the University of Nebraska, where he was a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

He was employed 23 years with the Skelly Oil Co., retiring as assistant general manager of the Skelgas Division.

Besides serving as board chairman for Stephenson's, he held the same position in the Hicks Ashby Co. of Kansas City.

Mr. Skinner was a member of Indian Hills Country Club in Kansas City, the Kansas City Club and the University Club in Lincoln.

Survivors include his wife, Vera; mother, Mrs. Cedelia Skinner of Omaha, and sisters, Mrs. Mia Dailey of Omaha, Miss Helena Skinner of Prescott, Ariz., and Mrs. Neva Bernatz of Chandler, Ariz.

Senior Citizens Picnic Relocated

The senior citizens picnic will be held 11 a.m. Wednesday at Recreation Center 1, 1225 F St.

The "indoor picnic" was originally scheduled to be held at Van Dorn Park. The change was made because of hot weather said the recreation department.

Entertainment will follow the noon meal.

Your low-cost Want Ad appears daily in the Lincoln Star (Morning) and the Lincoln Journal (Evening) or the Sunday Journal and Star at the following cash rates:

Words	Lines	DAYS 1	4	7	10
1-10	2	.94	3.12	4.34	4.80
11-15	3	1.26	4.44	6.09	6.90
16-20	4	1.60	5.76	7.84	8.80
21-25	5	1.95	7.00	9.80	11.00
26-30	6	2.28	8.16	11.34	12.60
31-35	7	2.59	9.24	12.74	14.70

FOR GREATEST ECONOMY — start your ad for 10 times, cancel when you obtain results. You pay only the rate earned at the time of cancellation.

These low-cost rates apply to Want Ads from within the State of Nebraska which are placed for consecutive days and are paid for within 10 days after the ad expires or is canceled. Daily rate for ads from outside State of Nebraska is 51 cents per line.

Single paper rates either evening Journal or morning Star, are 93% of the combination rates. These ads would appear under "Too Late To Classify" column.

DEADLINES FOR FAMILY WANT ADS — Lincoln Journal (Evening)—Call before 10 a.m. Monday through Saturday for publication the same day. Lincoln Star (Morning)—Call before 6 p.m. Monday through Friday for publication on following day. Call before 5 p.m. Saturdays for Monday morning publication. Sunday Journal and Star—Call anytime before 1 p.m. on Saturdays for publication Sunday.

ERRORS: Advertisers should check their ad on first insertion and report any errors at once. Dial 477-8902.

ADJUSTMENTS: The company is responsible for typographical errors or misclassification only to cancel the first day's charge on that portion of an ad that may be rendered valueless by that error. All ads will be classified properly.

BLIND BOX SERVICE: There is a 50c additional charge for this confidential service. When using a Blind Box Number, add 4 additional words to your Want Ad copy, figure the charges from the above table and add 50c for Blind Box Service Charges.

OFFICE HOURS: Daily, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

ATTENTION
Mobile Home Buyers
Do you know that a housewife can take 1 bottle of ketsup & 1 bottle of water & end up with 2 bottles of ketsup. Do you know that a mobile home builder can use 1 in. of insulation instead of 2 & still build a mobile home. You can't tell the difference by looking at the home but we can prove what goes into the homes we sell. Come over to the north side of town & see the mobile homes that are built for quality minded people. 20c

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

Cast iron pipe was first used to carry water in the early 19th century.

☆ ☆ ☆

Oriental kites often are built in the shape of birds, fish, dragons, insects, even people. Some kites are fitted with bamboo whistles that wail plaintively over the countryside.

☆ ☆ ☆

Aquatint is a variety of etching.

London's famous Pall Mall was named for a form of croquet called Paille Maille played in France more than 300 years ago.

The United States uses an average 150 gallons of water a day for each man, woman and child. In 1920 the per capita daily consumption was about 115 gallons.

The average pheasant clutch size is 10 young birds.

☆ ☆ ☆

Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington perhaps was a special honor to that state among the original 13 and perhaps to soften its disappointment when the nation's founding fathers decided not to make Philadelphia the permanent capital.

☆ ☆ ☆

Irish monks visited Iceland in the 8th and 9th centuries.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A X Y D L B A A X R
to L O N G F E L L O W

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you.
